Second Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 20·6 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in India.)

Character of the season.—In the first forecast issued in September last the weather was reviewed up to August. Owing to prolonged drought transplanting of winter rice was very late in many parts of the province this year. Seasonable showers in September facilitated late transplantation and favoured the growth of the crop to some extent. Rainfall in the month of October was again insufficient and materially affected the final growth and flowering of transplanted winter paddy notably in some west and north Bengal districts. In consequence the outturn of the crop has been poor for the province.

Acreage.—According to the figures returned by the District Officers, the total area under winter rice is 14,897,200 acres as compared with 16,110,300 and 16,095,900 (revised) acres in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended it will be seen that only one district reports a normal crop of 100 per cent., twelve districts a crop varying from 71 to 92 and the rest below 70 per cent. of the normal. According to the above estimates the provincial outturn works out to 72 per cent. of the normal as against 86 and 88 per cent. in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Accepting 72 per cent. as the provincial outturn, the gross yield of the crop, on the basis of a normal yield of 12½ maunds of clean rice (husked) per acre, is estimated at 4,925,200 tons this year as against 6,361,900 and 6,504,100 (revised) tons, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
BENGAL.

Dacca, the 19th December 1940.

First Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 3·3 per cent, and that of rape and mustard 12·9 per cent. of the total area under these crops in India.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts are issued for the spring oilseed crops. The present one deals with the area sown and the condition of the crops.

Area sown.—Spring oilseeds are chiefly grown in the Presidency, Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions. In the other two divisions the cultivation is not so extensive. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is returned at 942,700 acres this year against 950,400 and 965,200 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year.

Character of the season.—At the outset weather was favourable for preparatory tillage and sowings which commenced generally in normal time. Subsequent dry weather in November facilitated further sowings and favoured the growth of the crops excepting in some West Bengal districts where the crops suffered from lack of adequate soil moisture, elsewhere the condition may be regarded as fair.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Below is published, for general information, the address delivered by the Inspector-General at the passing out of the 1940 batch of cadet sub-inspectors:—

Gentlemen,

To-day you complete the theoretical side of your training to be police officers. You are now leaving the sheltered atmosphere at Sardah for the bigger world of Bengal. Here you have had a number of friendly instructors; you have had to do little in the way of thinking for yourselves; responsibility has hardly yet come your way. Now, in a short time all will be changed. Although your period of training is not yet finished, you are going out to districts for practical as opposed to theoretical training in your professional duties; you will still have instructors who however will not be able to devote all their time to watching you and teaching you, as they have their own duties to perform and they can merely guide you on the broad principles and outlines and show you by examples as much as by precept how you can best make yourselves efficient police officers. Great care will be taken in selecting for you those under whom you will be posted for training and I feel sure they will devote as much time as they can possibly spare to the improvement of your technical knowledge but at the same time much will depend upon yourselves as to how much you learn. You are expected now to keep your eyes and ears open and I beg of you to be inquisitive. There is a reason for every rule that has been prescribed in the Police Regulations; there is an object in all preventive measures that are adopted, and if you can once see the reason why these rules have been framed, why certain practices are carried out, then you are half way or more towards being able to apply the best measures. I have frequently likened the problem of the police to that of a doctor. Your patient is the criminal situation of the police-station to which you are posted; the disease with which you have to deal is the rise and fall in crime in that jurisdiction as in the patient it may be a rise and fall of temperature. The duty of a doctor is to diagnose the disease from which the patient is suffering, for until that is done it is impossible to prescribe the medicine which will cure that disease. Thus with the police until you find out the reason for the increase in crime or reasons for certain fluctuation—seasonal or geographical—it is not possible for you to introduce the remedy in the shape of patrols, surveillance or detection. If then you cannot at first see any reason why certain action is taken, why certain rules or registers have been prescribed, please do not hesitate to ask the reason why and if your local officer is incapable of giving you a satisfactory answer or if he gives you an answer which does not convince you, do not hesitate to take your query a step further and ask your Inspector or even your Superintendent of Police for the reason. The Police as at present constituted in Bengal derived their more modern conception and organisation from the Police Commission of 1902 and I am afraid that in many places there is far too great a tendency to carry on to-day with those methods that were introduced in or even in force before that year 1902. But conditions have not stood still; modern inventions, railways, telegraphs, aeroplanes and many other scientific inventions have developed with enormous strides in the last 30 years. I regret to say that with few exceptions our officers have not kept pace with that advance of modern science. I want you, therefore, to realise that you are joining now a highly technical profession, one that requires constant study, one in which you will never have learnt everything there is to know. I myself with my many years of service am constantly learning new things relating to my profession and the same must be the case with all of you. Do not, therefore, feel that you are leaving this College fully equipped, completely trained police officers. Realise that you are only on the very threshold of approach to the enormous amount of research and knowledge which is required of a first class police officer. In this College you have shown great concentration, great keenness and interest in acquiring such knowledge as we have been able in the short time which you have spent here to impart to you; but now onwards much will rest with yourselves. Material for study will be placed within your reach by articles published in the Gazette, by the Bengal Police Magazine—a quarterly production which I commend most heartily to your attention—and above all, the study of human nature which should be the police officer's most frequent subject. So much then your professional future. But I have a still more important topic with which I want to fill your minds and which I desire to impress upon you for the rest of your days, and that is your moral obligations in the Service to which you are now admitted members. Many of you when questioned at the time of selection as to why you chose the Police Service as your career no doubt answered "because it offers an opportunity of serving your fellow men". If that is your real reason it is a most admirable one and one which from now onwards, I hope, you will all adopt. We are public servants which means servants of the public. There is no shame attached to the designation "servant". We are called into this world not to serve our own selfish ends but to serve the needs of others in whatever walk of life we adopt. But in the Police, above all services, we take upon ourselves service of the highest order. To us is committed the safety of the people and the safety of their property from the depredations of those with criminal intent. Go out then to your districts, determined to be of service to your fellow countrymen; disabuse your minds if ever they held such a thought of the idea that you are going out as a man of great importance, as a tyrant, as one whose word is going to be law. You are charged now with the care and protection of those living within the jurisdiction to which you may be posted. You are paid by the Government and bound under the law to render services of a specified nature to those people. You are not doing them a favour by investigating their cases or recording their complaints; you are carrying out the law which compels you to do so, and you must have no choice or selection in the matter. You have a bounden duty which you are appointed to fulfil. Some old fashioned police officers—not nearly so prevalent perhaps as our traducers would have us believe—were highhanded, dictatorial, blustering and discourteous. The result was that just as they failed to realise their duty of helping the public among whom they lived, so equally were the public deterred or even terrified from helping them and from the misdeeds of men of this class has grown up the distrust which in the past the public so definitely held of the Police Service as a whole. That is a position which I have done much to endeavour to break down. You are Bengalees drawn from respectable families of Bengal and your brothers and uncles and neighbours are the public of Bengal. Therefore there seems to me no reason now why if you carry into effect the instructions which I am endeavouring to give you to-day, this antipathy, antagonism, distrust should not vanish. Your fathers and uncles and brothers—they know you to be men of good character, men of education; they surely cannot believe that the mere assuming of a police uniform is going to change you into some overweening, overbearing monster. If then all of you make up your minds not to disappoint your fellow countrymen, your relatives, then gradually the public of Bengal must come to realise that the Police Force of this country is a local product, that their own kith and kin are not transformed into new beings of an ogreish character but are kindly beings with the same fine feelings that they themselves have and that you have not acquired a new character of an unpleasant nature by joining the Police Force. On the contrary you have merely been singled out and given special training and facility for rendering service of a particular kind to the people of Bengal. With few exceptions now, the Bengal Police is a Bengal product; except in a few cases of the Special Armed Forces all recruitment to the rank of constable is made from Bengalees. You, gentlemen, are all residents of Bengal and even your superior officers are now from year to year becoming more predominantly Bengalee, so that if there is any justification for serious criticism of the efficiency and morale of the Bengal Police, that criticism is very largely by brother of brother. I have served for 33 years in the Bengal Police and I know their capacity; I know what fine magnificent service they can and have so frequently rendered. Of their bravery as witnessed by their tackling of the terrorist organisation and by their records on the rolls of the King's and Indian Police Medals I have no doubt. It only remains to clear our name of the suspicion—unfortunately in many cases in the past too often justified—of highhandedness and dishonesty. Which brings me now to my last concluding admonition and that is "Keep your hands and your heart clean and free from all suspicion of dishonest dealings". You know now and you knew when you decided to enter the Police the pay that you will draw and your prospects of promotion. You have accepted those terms as adequate to your needs. Therefore, there is no justification for endeavouring to add to those terms of service by dishonest or unscrupulous methods. As I have said earlier in my address, the law prescribes certain action to which the public are entitled from police officers of various ranks. Those services must be rendered free gratis with no thought of acceptance of a fee for performing a duty, which is your bounden one, or for devoting perhaps more attention to one case than you might to another. I do not believe that there remain in the Bengal Police at the moment many people who are definitely dishonest and take money with a view to shielding the criminal. But there are, I regret to say, a number who still accept payment for doing their duty—the duty which I reiterate you are called upon by virtue of your office and under the law to perform. Take it from me that every single case in which one officer is dishonest tends to blacken the name of the whole force and until we eradicate from the force as a whole any black sheep of this type that may remain, we run the danger of perpetuating the ill fame and the bad reputation so often ascribed to our Service. To-day you have taken before your Inspector-General the oath of allegiance to the King Emperor and to the Government and to perform your duties honestly, diligently and cheerfully. I trust that you appreciate the solemn nature of an oath and I hope that you will carry this oath in your minds and before you throughout your service. Make a solemn promise to yourselves never in any circumstances to take even a single pice in connection with the execution of your duty. I want you to go perhaps even a little further than this, for I feel that until there is a determination on the part of the whole force to rid itself of its black sheep we shall never attain the high standard which I feel sure is attainable. I want you to band yourselves together to set your face against any dishonesty on the part of your comrades and make it felt throughout the force that you despise anybody who falls from this high standard, and that socially you will boycott and debar from all fellowship with you and brother officers of the Police anyone who dares to bring disgrace upon the force by deviating from the highest lines of conduct. I am not aware whether your Principal has told you that the Bengal Police has in one great feature a worldwide reputation. It was in the Bengal Police, in our Criminal Investigation Department that the system of classification of finger-prints, which is now almost universal, was discovered. If then in some spheres of scientific progress the Bengal Police can be first in the world, there is no reason why in honesty and efficiency it cannot also stand equally high among the police forces of the Empire.

King's Police and Fire Services Medal.

NOTIFICATION.

New Delhi, the 1st January 1941.

No. 26-H.—His Imperial Majesty the KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA, has been graciously pleased to confer the King's Police and Fire Services Medal on the following officers and men of the Indian Police establishments:—

* * * *

Bengal.

7. Geoffrey Herbert Mannooch, Indian Police, Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Rajshahi Range.—Mr. G. H. Mannooch was appointed a probationary Assistant Superintendent of Police in November 1910 and his outstanding qualities quickly came to notice as he was the only Assistant Superintendent of Police for many years who passed the departmental examinations completely within the first year. He was confirmed as 2nd grade Assistant Superintendent of Police in May 1912. In November 1914, after the outbreak of War, his services were lent to the Army Department and in view of his knowledge of languages he was employed as a postal censor for some months. From July 1917 to November 1918, he was employed as an Assistant Recruiting Officer and after serving in Salonica ultimately returned to the Bengal Police in February 1919. Mr. Mannooch was confirmed in the senior scale of the Indian Police in February 1920 and served with distinction in many of the larger districts in the Province. He began to officiate as a Deputy Inspector-General of Police in April 1932 and has been officiating continuously in that capacity since 10th December 1936. His work as Deputy Inspector-General of Police has been of a very high order. He was mentioned in the Administration Report on nine occasions. Throughout his service his work has been characterised by brilliance and thoughtfulness and his advice and ideas have been a great assistance to successive Inspectors-General.

8. Babu Radha Binode Ray, Inspector of Police, Hooghly District.—Inspector Radha Binode Ray was enlisted in the Bengal Police as a Head Constable on 16th January 1912 and was confirmed as a Sub-Inspector ten years later. He reached his present rank on 1st January 1937. His service record abounds with commendations and laudatory remarks in the course of which he received 137 rewards. He was responsible in 1924 for the capture of four dacoits red-handed and for the arrest of two gangs of coiners. In February 1939 he brought a serious situation under control and as a result of his action a riot was averted.

9. Babu Satya Narayan Chatarji, Inspector of Police, District Intelligence Branch, Rangpur.—Inspector Satya Narayan Chatarji was enlisted in the Bengal Police on 2nd January 1919 as a Probationary Sub-Inspector. He was promoted to his present rank in July 1937. In 1928 he went through a course of instruction at the Detective Training School and won the first prize. He was then transferred to Rangpur where he was placed in charge of Gaibandha thana. His efforts to deal with subversive activities were successful and in 1932 he began to officiate as an Inspector in the Rangpur District Intelligence Branch. He did excellent work in conspiracy cases in 1934 and 1935 and his work in the District Intelligence Branch was reported to be of a very high order. He was responsible for obtaining information which led to the recovery of the arms and literature from terrorist groups. During his service he has earned many cash rewards and a silver watch.

10. BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 35L.A.—6th January 1941.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Land Revenue Sales (Amendment) Bill, 1937, by Mr. Syed Abdul Majid, M.L.A., with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Land Revenue Sales (Amendment) Bill, 1937, by Mr. Syed Abdul Majid, M.L.A.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Land Revenue Sales (Amendment) Bill, 1937, by Mr. Syed Abdul Majid, M.L.A., was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 6th September, 1940, beg to submit this our final report.

The Committee met for the first time on the 18th September, 1940, and continued their sittings thereafter on the 20th September, and 11th and 12th November, 1940, when they concluded their deliberations on the Bill.

The Hon'ble Sir Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy, Minister in charge of the Revenue Department, was elected to the chair and consent of the Hon'ble Speaker was obtained in respect of the sittings of the Committee held after the 31st October, 1940, which was the date appointed by the Assembly for submission of the report.

The Bill was published after introduction in the Calcutta Gazette of the 18th November, 1937, and has not, in our opinion, been altered by our recommendations to the extent of requiring republication.

Matter recommended by us to be omitted has been printed in italics and included in square brackets and new matter recommended to be inserted has been underlined.

The reasons for the amendments recommended by us besides those of a purely formal or drafting nature are as follows:—

Preamble.—The insertion of Bengal Act VII of 1868 in the preamble has been necessitated by the insertion of the new clause 3 to this Bill.

Clause 2.—We have inserted some drafting alterations in this clause. In the proposed section 37A we have considered a compensation of three per cent. of the purchase money sufficient for a bonâ fide purchaser. The one per cent. of purchase money, originally provided for payment to the Government as costs incurred subsequent to the issue of sale notification, was however considered by us to be rather arbitrary and we have therefore provided for payment of the actual costs incurred in such cases.

In the proposed section 37B, we did not consider it necessary to issue notices of the application for setting aside the sale to anybody except the purchaser and have modified sub-clause (1) accordingly.

The new sub-clause (3) has been inserted in order to provide for appeals against orders of the Collector refusing to vacate sales, on the analogy of the provisions contained in the Bengal Tenancy Act and the Civil Procedure Code.

The provision in the proposed new section 37C has really been brought out of section 37A as originally proposed with slight modification. We have thought it expedient to leave the question of payment of interest to the discretion of the Collector according to the merits of each case.

The slight additions in the proposed section 37D have been made for making the intention clear.

Clause 3.—In this new clause we have amended section 30 of the Bengal Act VII of 1868 as we considered it a desirable consequential change, to avoid any possible misinterpretation on the effect of the present Bill.

Amount paid to prevent sale to be in certain cases a mortgage-debt on the estate or share thereof.

(2) His mortgage shall take priority over every other charge[s] on the said estate or share other than a charge for arrears of revenue.

(3) He shall be entitled to the possession of the said estate or share as mortgagee of the defaulting proprietor or proprietors and to retain possession of it as such until the said debt with interest thereon has been discharged.

Irrigation.

RESOLUTION No. 1-I.

Calcutta, the 17th September 1940.

Read the Annual Irrigation Revenue Report for the year 1938-39.

2. The gross expenditure on capital account during the year was Rs. 66,099. After the deduction of receipts and recoveries on capital account amounting to Rs. 95,337, the net capital expenditure was (—) Rs. 29,238 as against Rs. 2,13,643 in the previous year. The major portion of the gross capital outlay was incurred on residual works of the Damodar Canal and the recovery was almost wholly on account of the hire charges earned by the dredger "Ronaldshay".

The expenditure on revenue account amounted to Rs. 34,43,420 during the year under review as against Rs. 28,29,151 of the previous year. Of the total, a sum of Rs. 6,55,354 was spent on irrigation works proper, the principal items being the Damodar (including the Eden), Bakreswar and Midnapore Canals, the contour survey in Central and Western Bengal and the preparation of a detailed estimate for the Howrah-Hooghly Flushing Scheme. A sum of Rs. 4,88,211 represents mainly the value of the work of dredging the storm water outfall channel carried out on behalf of the Corporation of Calcutta out of contributions made by them. The rest of the expenditure on revenue account was on navigation, embankment and drainage works. The expenditure on navigation was mainly for the upkeep of the five suction dredgers, the maintenance of the Hijili Tidal Canal in Midnapore and of the existing steamer and boat routes from Calcutta to Eastern Bengal and Assam and the conservancy of some of the principal navigable rivers of the province such as the Ganges, the Dhalleswari and the Buri-ganga.

The total revenue receipts during the year were Rs. 17,16,573 as against Rs. 11,97,334 of the previous year. The rise of revenue to the extent of more than Rs. 5 lakhs was due to the collection of arrears from the Damodar Canal area.

In 1938 there was continued drought up to about the end of May and subsequently there was heavy rainfall which caused damage to crops in many places. During the year under review the flood levels were exceptionally high in South, Central and Eastern Bengal owing to high levels in both the Ganges and Brahmaputra rivers. In several rivers the levels exceeded the highest record.

The total area irrigated by the Damodar, Eden, Bakreswar, Midnapore, Salbund, Amjore and Kashianalla Canals was 113,405 acres compared with 200,308 acres in the previous year. The fall was due to the fact that the number of leases executed by the tenants in the area commanded by the Damodar Canal, which was brought back under the operation of the Irrigation Act during the year, was small.

The contour survey of certain areas in Central and Western Bengal which was undertaken during the cold weather of 1936 was continued during the year under review. It is expected that on the data obtained by such surveys, it will be possible to frame projects for schemes which will be remunerative and suitable for execution under the Bengal Development Act.

The temporary Development Circle which was entrusted with the preparation of a detailed irrigation and flushing project for an area of 916 square miles lying in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly and Howrah, submitted to the Chief Engineer the detailed estimate of the project in February 1939.

The dredger "Ronaldshay" was engaged fully throughout the year under review on the work of the Corporation of Calcutta referred to above and earned a hire charge of Rs. 1,46,000.

During the year under review sanction was accorded to the expansion and reorganisation of the Department on a temporary basis up to the 29th February 1940 with three circles of superintendence, eleven divisions and 28 subdivisions. The Bankura Division was renamed the Western Development Division and transferred to the Development Circle with effect from the afternoon of the 8th March 1939.

of Bengal.*

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,

Dacca, the 23rd December 1940.

Forecast of the Winter Til (Sesamum) Crop of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under til in Bengal has represented some 3·7 per cent. of the total area under til in India.)

Character of the season.—The rainfall in August and September was sufficient for the field operation and for the sowing of the crop which commenced generally in normal time. Subsequent dry weather facilitated further sowings and was helpful to the growth of the crop excepting in some west and north Bengal districts where the crop suffered from drought. On the whole, the season has been fair for the crop.

Acreage.—Total area sown with the crop this year is estimated at 46,400 acres as against 45,300 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to the District Officers' estimates the outturn for the province works out to 77 per cent. of the normal this year as against 79 per cent. last year.

Taking 7 1/20th maunds as a normal rate of yield per acre the gross outturn for the province is estimated at 9,300 tons this year as against the same estimate last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Camp Calcutta, the 19th December 1940.

Final Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under autumn rice in Bengal has represented some 7·7 per cent. of the total area under rice in India.)

Character of the season.—As indicated in the Preliminary Forecast, the rainfall in May and June facilitated sowings and benefited the growth of the plants to some extent. Subsequently, however, the weather conditions became unfavourable and drought or scanty and insufficient rainfall affected the growth and final development of the crops almost throughout the Presidency. The season was thus a bad one for the bhadoi crops as a whole.

Acreage.—The total acreage sown with different bhadoi crops this year is reported to be 6,131,900 acres against 6,447,500 acres last year. Of this, the area under autumn rice is estimated at 5,416,200 acres against 5,741,500 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to the District Officers' estimates, the outturn of the different bhadoi crops for the Presidency works out at 70 per cent. of the normal this year against 75 per cent. last year. The autumn rice is estimated to yield an outturn of 69 per cent. of the normal for the province this year against 75 per cent. last year.

On the basis of a normal yield of 11 1/9th maunds of clean rice per acre, the gross outturn of bhadoi paddy (autumn rice) for the province is estimated at 1,525,400 tons this year against 1,757,600 tons last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
BENGAL.

Dacca, the 7th December 1940.

Third Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under cotton in the territories in Bengal to which this forecast relates has represented some 0·2 per cent. and that in the Bengal States some 0·1 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.)

There are two crops, early and late. The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the Tripura State and to a small extent in other districts. The late crop is grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the second forecast in October last the weather has not been very favourable for the crop. In Chittagong Hill Tracts the November showers have affected the crop to some extent.

Area sown.—The total area sown with early cotton is returned at 107,078 acres this year against 92,470 acres (revised) in the corresponding forecast of last year and that with late variety at 635 acres both this year and in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn of the early crop is estimated at 32,732 bales this year against 29,572 bales (revised) in the corresponding forecast of last year and that of late variety at 70 bales both this year and in the corresponding forecast of last year.

In the sphere of its normal activities the Engineering Branch of the Public Health Department continued to render valuable assistance to other departments of Government in the matter of sanitary engineering, besides helping the various local bodies in drawing up, executing, supervising or maintaining their sanitary projects.

4. The total capital expenditure on waterworks and the sewerage works completed or under construction during the year under review amounted to Rs. 8,38,917 as against Rs. 7,45,913 in the previous year. This indicates that inspite of the comparatively poor finances of the local bodies satisfactory progress was maintained towards undertaking sanitary improvement schemes. There was also a fairly large increase in the receipts of the department on account of fees for preparation of schemes and supervision of construction—the total gross receipt during the year being Rs. 54,220 against Rs. 33,231 in the preceding year.

5. The total estimated cost of the schemes prepared by this department during the year was Rs. 43,01,006 as detailed below, compared to Rs. 99,26,000 during the previous year:—

		1939.	1938.
		Rs.	Rs.
Sketch projects	28,35,880	89,94,850
Detailed projects	12,01,110	1,65,750
Miscellaneous	2,64,016	7,65,400
Total	43,01,006	99,26,000

The decrease in the value of sketch projects prepared by the department, and also the marked increase in the value of detailed projects drawn up during the year have not been explained in the report. The sudden increase in the value of sketch projects during the year 1938 was probably the result of the revival of the policy of making grants-in-aid towards public health engineering schemes which the local bodies were eager to avail themselves of. The large increase in the value of detailed projects during 1939 show that several of the sketch projects of the previous year have materialized.

6. Fourteen sanitary engineering works were executed under the supervision and control of the Public Health Engineering Department. The department continued to maintain the Kalimpong and Maijdi waterworks as in previous years.

7. During the year under report 54 waterworks were in operation including the non-municipal waterworks at Kalimpong, Bagerhat, Rangamati, Munshiganj and Maijdi. The Bagerhat and Munshiganj waterworks are the results of co-operation between the district boards and union boards concerned and Government expect that their example should be emulated in other areas.

The total number of persons served by waterworks was 1,418,967 and the total quantity of filtered water supplied by the waterworks amounted to 18,725,679 gallons. The quality of the water supplied from the various waterworks is reported to be satisfactory.

8. The chief event of the year under review is the completion of the main works of the Baranagar-Kamarhati Joint Water-supply Scheme, the first of its kind in the province. The members of the Joint Water-supply Committee, constituted under section 87 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, failed to arrive at an agreement in regard to the management of the joint waterworks and at the instance of the Commissioners of the two municipalities the management was taken over by Government and placed under the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department.

9. The staff of the department carried out periodical inspection of the waterworks and drainage works. Their inspection reports were placed before the Sanitary Board and forwarded to the local bodies concerned with necessary recommendations and suggestions for remedying the defects noticed.

10. The rural water-supply subdivision continued to render useful service in matters relating to supply of drinking water in rural areas. The Assistant Engineer and his staff made extensive tours throughout the province in the course of which they inspected tube-wells and other sources for the supply of drinking water in rural areas and also discussed the problems of rural water-supply with the engineering staff of district boards. They also examined the method adopted for execution of tube-wells and other waterworks and where these were found to be defective or capable of improvement, necessary instructions for improvement were given. The rural water-supply staff also advised the local authorities on possible improvements in the system of maintenance of the sources of water with a view to securing efficiency as well as economy. The services of this staff were also fully utilized in the preparation of the water-supply programme of the various districts in connection with the comprehensive programme for rural water-supply for the province. The subdivision has proved very useful and has before it a wider scope of activities along with the progress of the comprehensive rural water-supply programme.

11. The Sanitary Board continued to assist Government by their advice in matters relating to public health. The number of nominated members of the Board was increased from nine to ten during the year under review. The Board held only three meetings during the year in which it considered nine sketch projects and four detailed projects, all of which were approved and recommended to Government for their approval or final sanction, as the case may be, subject to certain conditions in particular cases. As usual the Board also considered the inspection reports of the officers of the Engineering Department and the summarised statements of water analysis reports.

12. Government have pleasure to record their appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by the Sanitary Board and the staff of the Engineering Branch of the Public Health Department, particularly by Mr. F. C. Griffin, the late Chief Engineer, who retired during the year under review.

NOTIFICATION.

Jessore.—No. 56P.H.—15th January 1941.—Whereas the Governor of Bengal is satisfied that the district of Jessore is threatened with an outbreak of cholera:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2A, read with sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (Act III of 1897), the Governor of Bengal is pleased to prescribe the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of cholera, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, cholera in the said district for a period of six months, with effect from 23rd January 1941:—

Temporary regulations for the prevention and control of cholera.

1. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:—

- (b) "Sanitary Inspector" means a Sanitary Inspector appointed by the District Board under sub-section (3) of section 91 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885;
- (c) "Board" means a District Board constituted under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885;
- (d) "Union Board" means a Union Board constituted under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919 (Bengal Act V of 1919);

2. Whenever any land is held jointly by two or more persons, whether as owners or occupiers of that land, such persons shall be held jointly and severally liable for carrying out any measure ordered in a notice under these regulations, and the names of any one or more of such joint-holders may be entered upon such notice at the discretion of the District Health Officer and the District Health Officer shall not be bound to enter the names of all the joint-holders in the notice.

Notices.

3. If in any case the District Health Officer considers that the issue of a notice under these regulations is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of cholera he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

4. If any measure which the District Health Officer has, by a notice issued under these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice the District Health Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Costs and compensation.

5. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the Board except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by that person :

Provided that where the conditions, which led the District Health Officer to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the persons in possession of the property, the Board may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The Board may recover all expenses incurred by the District Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 4 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

6. The Board shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations :

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations, if he has failed to carry out an order issued under these regulations within the time specified in the order and to the satisfaction of the District Health Officer.

8. (1) If information has not already been given under regulation 7, the medical practitioner called in to attend upon any case of cholera shall forthwith give notice of the case by special messenger to the nearest Sanitary Inspector and by post to the District Health Officer and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the Board.

(2) The doctor-in-charge of a hospital or a dispensary within the district shall forthwith give notice of any case of cholera brought to such hospital or dispensary for treatment to the nearest Sanitary Inspector by a special messenger and to the District Health Officer by post and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the Board.

9. Presidents of Union Boards in union board areas and thana officers in non-union board areas shall supply to the District Health Officer such periodical returns of cases of cholera as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

When the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the isolation of any patient is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he shall order the patient to observe isolation and may order the nearest relative in attendance on the patient, or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying, to arrange for the isolation of the patient in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the District Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector.

He shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is in his opinion impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein.

12. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person, who has in his opinion been exposed to infection from cholera, shall take such drugs in such quantities as may be specified by the District Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector or shall submit himself to anti-cholera inoculation within a time to be specified in the order.

13. No person shall enter place wherein a patient is isolated under regulation 11 without the permission of the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

14. The Board shall provide free of charge suitable places, with necessary attendants, medicine, diet and other necessities for persons isolated under regulation 11: Provided that a private individual may provide places certified by the District Health Officer as being fit for the purpose of such isolation.

15. No person, who is or has been suffering from cholera, shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector written permission to do so.

16. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person to allow to be carried out by such agency and within such time as may be specified in the order, such measures for the disinfection or evacuation of any premises in the occupation of such person or for the disinfection or destruction of any of his personal effects, as the said officer or inspector may consider necessary.

18. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may forbid any person who has been a patient or who has, to his knowledge, been in contact with a patient, to act as vendor of any article for such period as may be specified in the order.

18A. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance a patient except in the case where a patient is carried with proper precautions to a hospital.

19. No person shall sell any article which has been in contact with a patient until it has been disinfected to the satisfaction of the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

19A. No person shall expose in any street, shop, bazar or any public place any clothing, bedding or other article which has been in contact with a patient or shall cause or suffer such articles to be carried in any public conveyance, but nothing in this regulation shall apply to a person who transmits with proper precautions against spreading the disease any such article for the purpose of having the same disinfected.

19B. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance the dead body of any person who has died of cholera without the previous written permission of the District Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector, and without taking proper precautions against spreading the said disease.

Water-supply.

20. (1) When the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is of opinion that the water in any well, tank, pool or other possible source of water-supply is contaminated or is likely to be contaminated, he may at once take such steps as he deems necessary to close such well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply, or may require the owner or occupier of land upon which such well, tank, pool or source of water-supply is situated, to take steps to close the same to the satisfaction of the District Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector, as the case may be, within such time as may be specified in the order.

(2) The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require such owner or occupier to keep closed during such a period as shall be specified in the order any well, tank, pool or other sources of water-supply closed under paragraph (1) of this regulation.

Explanation.—In this regulation, "to close" includes the placing of chaukidars to prevent access to the well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply.

22. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from entering into or using for drinking, bathing, or any other purpose, during such period as may be specified in the order, the water in any well, tank, pool or other possible source of water-supply, which, in his opinion, is contaminated or likely to be contaminated.

23. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, by an order published at such places as he may think fit, set apart any well, tank, part of a river, stream or channel not being private property, or being private property with the consent of the owner, for the supply of water for drinking or culinary purposes and may prohibit therein or within a distance therefrom to be stated in the order all bathing, washing of clothes or animals, or other acts calculated to pollute the water; and may similarly set apart any well, tank, part of a river, stream or channel for the purpose of bathing or for the purpose of washing animals or clothes or for any other purpose connected with the health and cleanliness of the people using such water-supply.

24. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from easing themselves, or throwing, depositing or discharging any rubbish, sewage or offensive matter, into any well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply, which is used by the public, or within such a distance from such well, tank, pool or source of water-supply as he may fix.

Conservancy and sewage disposal.

25. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may (1) prohibit the committal or continuance of any nuisance, or (2) require the person causing any nuisance or the person occupying the premises on which any nuisance exists to remove such nuisance.

Explanation.—In this regulation, “nuisance” means anything which in the opinion of the District Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector is likely to spread or to cause the outbreak of cholera.

26. Whenever the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is satisfied that the condition of any privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is such as to cause risk of spreading cholera to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood he may order the occupier of the land in which such privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is situated to disinfect, or to allow an officer of the Board to disinfect, the same with such disinfectants in such quantities and at such time as the said officer or inspector shall think fit.

27. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may for the prevention of the outbreak or spread of cholera order the owner or occupier of any land to repair or make efficient to the satisfaction of that officer or inspector any drain, sewer, privy, urinal or cesspool which is situated upon such land or to remove any such drain, sewer, privy, or urinal or close any such cesspool within such time as may be fixed by the said officer or inspector.

Miscellaneous.

28. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may during the prevalence of any outbreak of cholera order that any market, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to him to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any fair, mela or other gathering to which people from several villages commonly or periodically resort.

29. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require the owner or occupier of any land to clear and remove, within the period specified in the order, any vegetation upon such land the existence of which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector conduces to the committing of nuisances upon such land.

30. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may issue general orders that by a specified date certain sanitary precautions of a simple nature, such lime-washing of houses, clearing of latrines or the removal of filth or rubbish shall be carried out to his satisfaction.

31. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from retaining or selling clothes taken from the bodies of persons who have died of cholera and may cause any such clothes to be destroyed.

32. No person shall, without the written permission of the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector, dispose of any corpse except by burning or burial.

33. The District Health Officer may approve burning or burial grounds and may by order direct either generally or specially in respect to any specified area, that corpses shall not be burned or buried at places other than those so approved by him.

34. Any person burning or causing to be burnt any corpse shall cause the same to be completely reduced to ashes, and shall likewise cause the clothes or other articles brought with such corpse to be reduced to ashes.

35. The District Health Officer may direct that no person shall bury or cause to be buried any corpse which, in the opinion of the District Health Officer, is likely to spread cholera in a grave not constructed of masonry and less than six feet deep.

36. The District Health Officer may order that no dome or other servant of the Board employed for the disposal of corpses shall withdraw from his duties without the permission of the District Health Officer unless such dome or other servant of the Board has given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw.

37. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may through any person authorised by such officer or inspector in that behalf seize and dispose of any corpse, which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector, is infected with or is likely to spread cholera, unless the relatives or friends of the deceased person satisfy him that they are prepared and able to dispose of the corpse in a manner which will prevent the spread of cholera.

38. (1) The District Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector may require any person who appears to be acquainted with facts in connection with any case of cholera or suspected cholera to attend before him at a time to be stated in the order and at any place not more than one mile from the place where such person resides or is staying when the order is issued, and such person shall appear as so required.

(2) When the person summoned to appear under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public suitable precaution shall be taken to respect the said custom.

39. (1) The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine orally any person who appears to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of a case of cholera or suspected cholera.

(2) When the person to be examined under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public the officer shall take her statement under such conditions as shall admit of due respect to the said custom.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him or her by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him or her to any criminal charge.

40. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, with such assistants (if any) as he thinks fit, enter upon any land, or after two hours' notice in writing, into any premises or buildings used for human habitation at any time between sunrise and sunset for the purpose of carrying out any measure or making any enquiries authorised by these regulations.

41. The crew of any inland steam vessel or boat which plies in any canal or river and other persons residing on such vessel or boat shall be subject to these regulations.

42. All inoculations under these regulations shall be performed gratuitously.

43. (i) Orders issued by the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector under these regulations shall be in writing.

(ii) The officer issuing such orders shall cause copies of them to be served upon any persons named in them.

(iii) The nearest relative of a patient or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying shall, if a copy of the order under regulation 11 has been served upon him, give to the nearest Sanitary Inspector or to his office, immediate notice of any disobedience of the order by the patient.

General instructions to the enumerating agency in regard to the manner of recording answers to the foregoing list of questions.

(1) Name.—Enter the name. If there is objection to giving the name of a female, enter w/o (abbreviation for wife of) or d/o (abbreviation for daughter of) so and so.

(2) Sex.—Write the answer in the bottom right-hand corner. If the person enumerated is a male (or eunuch or hermaphrodite, who are to be treated as males) write M. If female, write F.

(3) Race, Tribe or Caste.—For non-tribal Hindus write their caste. Give the caste name as stated by the person enumerated. If from the name given it is impossible to identify the caste, add the familiar name of the caste in brackets.

Example.—Viswakarma Brahman (Sutradhar).

Viswakarma Brahman (Kamar).

Yadav.—Against Yadav, there is no need to add "Goala" or "Gop", as Yadav is known to be appropriated to this caste and to no others. There is no risk of confusion.

For a Nepali, write Nepali. If he is a Hindu, add the name of his caste in brackets after the word Nepali.

Norm.—Sub-castes will not be tabulated; there is no need to record sub-castes. If a Hindu does not wish to record his caste, on the ground that he does not recognise the caste system, the enumerator may write "No caste".

For all members of tribes (whether Hindu or non-Hindu) enter the name of the tribe, e.g., Santal, Garo, Lepcha, etc.

For non-Indians, give the name of their race or nationality. Use precise terms. Do not write "European" but describe as English, Irish, Scots, French, etc. Similarly, do not write American, but say Canadian, U. S. A., Argentine, etc. Other examples are Japanese, Chinese, Iranian, Turkish.

There are many well-defined communities domiciled in India, which can hardly be classified as race, tribe or caste. In such cases, write the name of the community. In Bengal, the most important of these communities are the Muslims. Wherever Muslims are encountered, write "M" (abbreviation for Muslim). Other examples are Anglo-Indians, Brahmos, Parsees, Indian Christians, Jains, Sikhs and Jews. Buddhists also will be treated as a community. A distinction will be made between Arakanese Buddhists and other Buddhists. Where the enumerated person is an Arakanese Buddhist, the enumerator will write Buddhist (Ar.). Other Buddhists will be described as "Buddhist".

(4) Religion.—Here enter the personal religion. For Hindus, write H (abbreviation for Hinduism). For Muslims write Is. (abbreviation for Islam). For Christians write Chr. (abbreviation for Christianity).

Sects and denominations are not wanted, therefore avoid such terms as Sakta, Baishnab, Shia, Sunni, Hanafi, Protestant, Roman Catholic, Baptist, and so on.

Note on Tribal communities.—It does not follow that a member of a tribe will profess a tribal religion. He may have been converted to Hinduism, Islam or Christianity. In Q. 4 will be noted the religion which he actually professes. If that religion is a tribal religion, enter the word "tribal". To ascertain his religion, it is often useful to enquire whether he worships the tribal deities and keeps the tribal festivals.

Examples of other religions are cited in the Appendix.

(5) Are you married, unmarried, widowed or divorced?—Write the answer in the triangle. This question will be answered by symbols. If the person enumerated has not yet been married, put 0. If married, i.e., having a wife or husband living, write ✓. If widowed, and not remarried, put ×. If divorced, and not remarried, put D. Both partners in the divorce will be shown with a "D", unless either of them has remarried.

NOTE.—The present condition is what has to be noted. Thus, if a widowed or divorced person has remarried, the answer will be ✓.

If two persons are living as man and wife, in a relationship which by local custom and opinion is held to be equivalent to wedlock, then they are to be considered as married, although the strict formalities of wedlock have not been observed. A Hindu widow, remarried, will be considered a married person.

On the other hand mere concubinage will not be recognised as a married condition.

In this question, 0 means "I have never been married".

✓ means "I have a wife (or husband) living".

× means "My wife (or husband) is dead. I now have no wife (or husband)".

D means "My marriage has been dissolved by divorce. I have not remarried".

(6) Age.—Write the answer in the rectangle. Give the age on 1st March 1941. State the age in years and months, if possible. Always write y. (abbreviation for "years") after the number of years; and m. (abbreviation for "months") after the number of months. For infants of less than one year of age, give the years as 0, and write the age in months.

Examples:—

21 y. 8 m.	6
6	0 y. 6 m.
50 y.

(7) How many children born? How many survive?—This question is to be asked only of married women, i.e., of females on whose slip there is a ✓ in Q. 5. Write first the number of children born. Then write in brackets the number of children still living.

Example—7. 3 (2).

If she has never had a child, put ×. For unmarried and divorced and widowed females and for all males, put a ×.

Thus in this question × means "This question does not apply to me, as I am a male, or an unmarried, divorced or widowed female". It may also mean "I am a married woman, but I have never had a child".

(8) What was the mother's age at the birth of her first child?—This question, like Q. 7, is asked only of married women. Here write the mother's age in years at the birth of her first child. If she has never had a child, put ×. Likewise, in the case of unmarried, widowed, or divorced females, and all males, put a ×.

Example.—In this question "18 y." means "I was 18 years of age at the birth of my first child".

× means either "I have never had a child", or "I am a male, or an unmarried, widowed or divorced female. This question does not apply to me".

(9) Are you wholly or partly dependent?—"Dependent" means "Dependent for means of livelihood". A person who has no income in cash or kind must be wholly dependent on some one for means of livelihood. The commonest class of dependent are wives and children. For persons who are wholly dependent put a ✓.

A person may have some income in cash or kind, and yet not be in a position to support himself. Frequent instances will be found among Muslim families. Muslim females may inherit property, which they possess in their own right. The profits from this property are not usually sufficient to support them, but go to supplement the family income. These women are not independent, but at the same time are not wholly dependent. All dependents who have some income in cash or kind, distinct from the income of the person on whom they are dependent, are regarded as "Partly dependent". In recording them write "P." (abbreviation for Partly).

NOTE.—The income which renders a person partly dependent may be in cash or kind.

Example.—In very poor families, the wife may husk paddy in the houses of her richer neighbours. For this she is usually rewarded with some rice. If she does this regularly, she is "Partly dependent". Enter "P.".

On the other hand, assisting the guardian or husband in his means of livelihood does not render a wife or ward "Partly dependent", e.g., a cultivator may employ his wife and children regularly in labour on his fields. This labour does not render them "partly dependent", as they earn no income which is distinct from the income of the husband or guardian. The case is the same with the cottage weaver, who employs his family at the loom.

If a person maintains himself, without relying upon the income of any other person, he is "independent". In such cases put a ×.

Co-sharers in joint families who maintain themselves out of their share of the joint property are independent.

Convicts in jails, lepers and lunatics in asylums, are regarded as wholly dependent. In their case, put a \checkmark in Q. 9.

In-patients in hospitals, and undertrial prisoners should be regarded as pursuing their ordinary avocations. In their case, put a \checkmark , or P., or \times according to their actual circumstances.

Thus, in this question \checkmark means "Yes. I am wholly dependent." P. means "I am partly dependent". \times means "No. I am neither wholly or partly dependent, i.e., I am independent".

(10) If you are wholly or partly dependent, what is the means of livelihood of the person on whom you are dependent?—This question will only be asked of persons who are partly or wholly dependent.

Persons who are not dependent on any one else need not be asked this question. In their case put a \times . That is to say, where a \times has been put against Q. 9 (meaning independent), a \times will be put against this question.

When a person is wholly or partly dependent, ask him "What is the livelihood of the person on whom you are dependent?" Write the description of the livelihood against this question. In the Appendix will be found some indication of the manner in which livelihoods should be described. This Appendix should therefore be studied. The principle is that the livelihood should be described as precisely and accurately as possible.

Convicts in jails, lunatics and lepers in asylums are a special case. For them, enter a \times in Q. 10.

NOTE (i).—The person enumerated may be dependent on more persons than one. Write here the means of livelihood of that person on whom he is most nearly dependent.

NOTE (ii).—The individual who supports the enumerated person may have several means of livelihood. Here write only the principal means of livelihood of that individual.

Example.—A (the person enumerated) is dependent on B. B derives an income from his profession as a doctor, and another income from the rents of his zemindari. His principal income is derived from his profession as a doctor. In Q. 10 in A's slip write "Doctor of medicine".

(11) Do you employ paid assistants or members of your family?—Enter the number of paid assistants after (a) and the number of family members so employed after (b). If no paid assistant or member of the family is employed enter 0 after (a) or after (b) as the case may be.

"Family" includes wife, children, and dependent relations. "Paid" means "paid in cash or kind". "Employ" means "Regularly employ in your means of livelihood". Domestic servants will therefore not be included.

The person enumerated may have more livelihoods than one. If he employs no assistants in his principal occupation, he should be asked if he does so in his secondary occupation.

Example.—A's principal means of livelihood is his salary as a collectorate clerk. In this occupation, of course, he employs no assistants. He also has khas land, which he cultivates through 2 bhagdars. Enter "2" after (a) in this question.

After (a) enter the number of paid assistants. After (b) enter the number of members of the family so employed. The employment must be on behalf of, or for the benefit of, the person who employs them.

Examples.—(i) A cultivator engages 2 bhagdars and 1 whole-time kishan to till his fields. The bhagdars and the kishan are his paid assistants in his means of livelihood. Enter "3" after (a) in this question.

The same cultivator may be regularly assisted in his cultivation by two of his children. In that case, enter "2" after (b).

NOTE.—The employment must be regular employment, and does not refer to labour hired for a few days, merely to assist in a brief operation. Thus, extra hands taken on to assist in reaping crops or steeping jute will not be included.

(ii) A zemindar, whose livelihood is derived from the rents of his zemindari, employs and pays 3 naibs, 20 gomashas, and 50 peons to collect his rents. Write 73 after (a).

(iii) A labour contractor maintains a constant labour force of about 50 men. Enter 50 after (a).

(iv) A cottage weaver regularly employs 4 members of his family to assist him at the loom. Enter 4 after (b).

NOTE (i).—The term "employ" does not apply to agents or subordinates who engage labour, not on their own behalf, but on behalf of some superior authority. Thus (a) the Collector in a district office is not regarded as the employer of his clerical staff. (b) The Manager of a tea-garden is not the employer of his coolies; the manager of a jute mill is not the employer of the millhands. (c) The manager of a Court of Wards estate is not the employer of the staff engaged in the management of the estate. (d) Individual shareholders in joint stock companies are not employers of the company's employees.

NOTE (ii).—A Hindu joint family may be the proprietor of a joint concern—e.g., a semindari, or a business, which employs paid assistants. If each member of the joint family is recorded as employing the total number of the employees of the joint concern, the duplication of the figures will falsify the census. Therefore specially note the following rule. Where a joint family employs paid assistants in securing its joint means of livelihood, the number of the paid assistants will be shown only in the enumeration slip of the karta of the joint family. It will not be shown in the slips of the other co-sharers.

(12) Are you in employment now?—Ask this question only of persons who are not less than 16 years of age. If the person is in employment now, put a ✓. If he is not, put a ×. If he is less than 16 years of age, put a ×.

Employment means active employment in a means of livelihood. Pension-holders, who have no other earnings, are not "in employment". Similarly, income from investments does not constitute "employment". Wives, who merely keep house for their husbands, are not "in employment".

A cultivator is to be considered "in employment", although during the census period he may have no work to do upon his fields.

In this question therefore, ✓ means "Yes, I am in employment now". × means either "I am not in employment now" or "I am less than 16 years of age. The question does not apply to me".

(13) (i) Are you in search of employment? (ii) For how many months have you been in search of employment?—This question will only be put to persons who are not less than 16 years of age.

No person who is "in employment" will be regarded as "in search of employment".

If a person is in employment (i.e., has been recorded with a ✓ in Q. 12) the enumerator will always put a × in Q. 13.

If he is not in employment (i.e., has been recorded with a × in Q. 12), the enumerator will ask him if he is in search of employment, in other words, if he is looking for a job. If he is looking for a job, he will be asked "For how many months have you been looking for a job?" The period will be written down in months, i.e., the number of months, followed by the letter m. (abbreviation for months).

If he is not in search of employment, put a ×.

NOTE (i).—It does not follow that every person who is shown as "not in employment" against Q. 12, will be "in search of employment". For instance, females engage in household duties, pension-holders, and rentiers, will be "unemployed" as regards Q. 12; but in most cases they will not be "in search of employment".

NOTE (ii).—A person may be "in employment", but dissatisfied with his job, and looking out for a better one. Such a person will not be considered as "in search of employment". Q. 13 is designed for the census of the genuine unemployed, who are actually workless.

Example.—In this question "24 m." means "I have no job. I have been looking for work for 2 years".

× means either "I am less than 16 years of age; the question does not apply to me." or "I am not in search of employment".

(14) What is your means of livelihood, if any?—If the person has more than one means of livelihood, write first the most important, and then, in the next line, the next most important. There is no need to record more than two means of livelihood. In most cases the person enumerated will only have one means of livelihood.

Remember that what is recorded here is the means of livelihood of the person enumerated, not that of any other person.

Thus, a person who is "wholly dependent" has no means of livelihood. For all persons, who have no means of livelihood of their own, put a ×.

A person who is "partly dependent" must have some income in cash or kind. State precisely from what source that income is derived.

Persons who are independent must have at least one means of livelihood. It is essential that the means of livelihood should be described in exact words. Therefore avoid such vague expressions as "writing; service; shop; cultivation; labour". The enumerator should state what kind of "writing", etc.

In the Appendix will be found a list giving the recommended descriptions for a number of means of livelihood commonly met with. This list illustrates the principle by practical examples.

In the same appendix is a special note on agricultural occupations, showing how they are to be classified and described.

(15) Does this means of livelihood last throughout the year? If not, for how many months in the year does it last?—The means of livelihood mentioned in this question refers to the means of livelihood of a person who is partly dependent (see Q. 9); or a subsidiary means of livelihood entered in Q. 14.

If it lasts throughout the year put a $\sqrt{}$. If it lasts for a portion of the year, write the number of months, followed by the letter "m." (abbreviation for months), e.g., "6 m." means "It lasts for 6 months". If the period varies from year to year, state the period for which it lasted in 1940.

A means of livelihood depending on agriculture is regarded as lasting throughout the year.

For persons who are wholly dependent put a \times . For persons who are independent and have no subsidiary means of livelihood, put a \times .

Example.—In this question $\sqrt{}$ means either "The means of livelihood which renders me partly dependent exists throughout the year"; or "My subsidiary means of livelihood lasts throughout the year".

"3 m." means either "The means of livelihood which renders me partly dependent lasts for 3 months in the year"; or "My subsidiary means of livelihood lasts for 3 months in the year".

\times means either "I am wholly dependent. I have no means of livelihood. The question does not apply to me"; or "I am independent, but I have no subsidiary means of livelihood. The question does not apply to me".

(16) If you are employed by some one else, what is your employer's business?—"Employment" means only employment for cash. If a person is not employed by someone else for cash remuneration, put a \times .

This question does not refer to persons employed in agriculture or domestic service. For persons who are employed in agriculture or domestic service, put a \times .

The question refers to the principal means of livelihood only. The term "employer" includes a company or firm.

NOTE.—What has to be entered is not the name of the employer, but his business. If the company or firm has several kinds of business, enter only that business in which the enumerated person is employed.

Example.—In this question \times means either "I am not employed (in my chief means of livelihood) by someone else for cash"; or "I am employed in agriculture or domestic service. The question does not apply to me".

A firm may have interests in jute mills, and tea gardens. The person enumerated happens to be employed by that firm on a tea garden. In that person's slip, against this question, will be written "Tea cultivation".

NOTE.—See Appendix.

(17) Were you born in this district? If not, in what district were you born?—If the person enumerated was born in this district in which he is enumerated, put a $\sqrt{}$.

If he was born in some other district in Bengal, write the name of the district.

If he was born in another province, write the name of the district, followed by the name of the province.

If he was born in an Indian State, write the name of the State.

If he was born in a foreign country, write the name of the country.

Example.— $\sqrt{}$ means "Yes. I was born in this district". "Manbhum, Bihar" means "I was born in Manbhum district, in the province of Bihar".

"Burma" means "I was born in Burma".

(18) What is your mother-tongue?—Enter here the name of the language first spoken from the cradle. The mother-tongue of English-speaking races will naturally be English, although Europeans who were born in the country may have first learnt to speak the language of their native ayah.

Dumb persons and infants who have not yet learnt to speak, should be recorded as speaking the language of their mother.

NOTE.—In several European nations, the language spoken is not described by the name of the nationality. Thus Belgians do not speak "Belgian", but French, Flemish or Walloon. Swis do not speak a Swiss language, but French, German or Italian. Czechs may speak either the Czech language or German. Canadians may speak either French or English. Brazilians may speak Portuguese, Argentinos, Spanish, and so on.

(19) What other Indian languages do you commonly use?—Remember, this question relates to Indian languages, and not to English or any other foreign language.

No Indian language should be entered here, unless the enumerated person speaks it fluently, and habitually, for domestic or business purposes. Do not enter dead or learned languages like Sanskrit, Pali or Latin. It must be a language which is used for the ordinary purposes of every-day life. If a person is fluent in several Indian languages, not more than two should be recorded.

Examples.—A, a Marwari shop-keeper, whose native language is Hindi, keeps a shop, in which he has to speak Bengali to his customers. He is fluent in Bengali. In enumerating him, the language "Hindi" will be entered against Q. 18; and the language "Bengali" against Q. 19.

A, a Munda speaking aboriginal, is employed on a tea-garden, where the lingua franca is Hindustani. A is fluent in this language. In his enumeration slip, "Munda" will be written against Q. 18, and "Hindustani" against Q. 19. For those who do not commonly use any other Indian language, put x.

(20) Can you both read and write? If so, in what language? Can you only read?—The test of reading and writing is ability to write a letter and read the answer to it. A person who can only read his signature is not literate.

If a person can pass this test in reading and writing, the enumerator will write down the name of the language in which he is literate, e.g., Bengali, Nepali, Tamil, French. As regards Hindustani, if the person writes this language in Devanagari characters, record the language as Hindi. If he writes it in Urdu characters, record the language as Urdu.

If the person enumerated is literate in his mother-tongue and another language, record particulars only of his mother-tongue.

Example.—A Bengali clerk is literate in Bengali and English. In question 20 write only "Bengali". [There is a separate question (No. 22) dealing with literacy in English.]

On the other hand, in the case of an Englishman, literate in English, write "English" in Q. 20.

If the person enumerated cannot read and write according to this test, put a x.

If the person can read, but not write, put P. (abbreviation for "Partly") followed by the name of the language. The test of reading is the ability to read print.

Example.—"Bengali" means "I can read and write Bengali".

"P. Bengali" means "I can read Bengali when it is printed, but cannot write".

x means "I can neither read nor write".

(21) How far have you read?—Write the answer between the dotted lines. Give the highest examination you have passed.

In India, there is an examination for most classes in schools. Use the accepted abbreviations, e.g., L. P. (for lower primary), U. P. (for upper primary), Matric., I.A., B.A., M.A., etc.

If he has passed class 4, 5, or 6, write class 4, 5, or 6 as the case may be.

If he has passed no examination, put a x.

Exception.—The enumerator may encounter educated persons who have passed no examination. In these cases, the enumerator will have to judge the standard of education to which the person may have attained, and will record that standard.

These cases will most frequently occur among the females of bhadralok families, who have been privately educated. The enumerator will have to estimate the standard of education they have reached and record it.

(22) Are you literate in English?—Write the answer in the square. The test of literacy is ability to write a letter in English and read the answer to it.

If the person enumerated is literate according to this test, put a √. If he is not, put a x.

NOTE.—All persons who are literate in English will be entered here, even if they have already been recorded in Q. 20 as being literate in English.

Appendix.

Question 4.—Religion.

If the enumerated person practises:—

- (a) Islam write Is.
- (b) Hinduism write H.
- (c) Christianity write Chr.
- (d) Any Tribal religion write Tribal.
- (e) Buddhism write Buddhist.
- (f) Brahmoism (unless the Bramho desires to return his religion as Hindu) write Brahmo.

For Parsees write Zoroastrian.

For Chinese write Confucianism.

For Jews write Jew.

For Jains write Jain.

For Sikhs write Sikhism.

For Aryas write Vedic Dharma, Hindu or Arya, according to the preference of the person enumerated.

If the enumerated person acknowledges no religion, write "No religion".

If he is atheistic or agnostic, write "Atheism" or "Agnostic" as the case may be.

Question 10.—Means of livelihood of person on whom dependent; and Question 14.—
Means of livelihood (of person enumerated).

Say what kind of shop, e.g., grocery shop, stationery shop, toddy shop, cycle shop, musical stores, cloth shop, tailoring shop, etc. Shop.

Distinguish between the clerical staff and the mill hands, e.g., accountant or pay clerk in jute mill, jute weaver or jute spinner in jute mill. Mills and factories.

Say what kind of works, i.e., what branch of engineering the person enumerated is engaged in, e.g., tram, bus or motor works; or general engineering contractors. If the concern specialises in any particular branch of engineering, state it, e.g., road or bridge construction. Engineering works or repair shops.

Say whether the person enumerated is an engineer by profession, or foreman, or mechanic, e.g., Mechanic in motor repair works.

Say what kind of plantation, e.g., tea-garden, or cinchona plantation. Plantations.

Distinguish between manager, assistant manager, clerical staff, and coolie, e.g., manager of tea-garden, head assistant on tea-garden, coolie on tea-garden.

Say what branch of railway administration, e.g., traffic manager, driver, guard, porter; or assistant in traffic department, and so on. Railway companies.

Give the name of the trade, and state whether manager or salesman, etc., in a particular department. Trade.

If engaged in the building trade, state whether architect, mason, building contractor, or maker of bricks, etc.

NOTE.—In small industries, the maker of the article will often be the seller. In these cases, always state whether the person also sells the articles which he makes, e.g., maker and/or seller of biris, of ornaments, etc.

(a) Law.—Say whether barrister, barrister judge, solicitor, pleader, muktar, pleader's clerk, etc. Professions.

(b) Medicine.—State whether doctor of medicine, kabiraj, compounder, nurse, hospital orderly and so on.

(c) Civil Service.—State whether I.C.S., I.E.S., I.F.S., I.S.E., B.C.S., etc. If the person is employed in a Government office, state whether in Collectorate, Judges' Court, C. W. D., A. G. B.'s office and so on.

(d) Police.—State whether Imperial Police (for which use the abbreviation I.P.), Inspector of Police, Sub-Inspector, Constable, etc. (If in armed branch, say so.)

(e) Military.—State whether British, Indian or Colonial army, and give the military rank, e.g., Colonel, Major, Sergeant, Subadar, private.

(f) Teaching.—State whether professor in a college, or teacher in a school; say whether the teaching is done in a H. E., M. E., or primary school, or muktab, etc.

There are numerous artisan professions; state the profession clearly, e.g., blacksmith, carpenter, wheelwright, sawyer, cobbler and so on.

Examples are.—Company promoter, stockjobber, broker, banker, money-lender.

NOTE.—If the person enumerated is engaged in banking, state whether he is a manager, assistant, cashier, accountant, etc.

Examples are.—Pension, income from investments, shareholder (a shareholder is not the same as a co-sharer).

Agricultural occupations.—Agriculture is a very widespread form of livelihood, and embraces several distinct categories of occupation. It is necessary to mark clearly in what category the enumerated person falls. The terms familiar to revenue law, such as zemindar, patnidar, rayat, korfa and a host of others are not suitable. They define merely the legal status, and do not always express how the cultivator actually deals with his land. Therefore persons whose livelihood is derived from land are to be divided into four classes, viz., (i) those who take rent from land, but do not cultivate it themselves. These correspond to zemindars, tenure-holders and owners of similar interests. (ii) Those who cultivate their own land on payment of rent, either with their own hands or through hired labour or bhagdars. These correspond to rayats, korfas, etc. (iii) Those who cultivate land not their own, supplying their own plough, and taking a share of the crop. These correspond to bhagdars, bargails, borgadars, etc. (iv) Those who have no plough, but whose services are hired for labour in the fields, by the day, by the month, or by the year. This class in parts of Bengal are known as Kishans.

Into one or other of these four classes, the agricultural population of Bengal will fall.

In Q. 14 the respective livelihood of these four classes will be described as follows:—

- (i) Rent from land.
- (ii) Cultivates own land on rent.
- (iii) Bhagdar.
- (iv) Field labour.

NOTE.—No person will be described as a “bhagdar” who does not supply his own plough.

It will frequently happen that the same man belongs to two agricultural classes. In such cases, each will be treated as a separate means of livelihood and entered in Q. 14—the most important being written first.

Example.—A cultivates 3 bighas of his own land as a rayat and 20 bighas of other men's land in bhag. His income as bhagdar is more lucrative than his income as a rayat. Then in Q. 14, write “Bhagdar” on the first line; and “cultivates own land for rent” on the second line.

NOTE.—In the case of persons whose livelihood is the raising of crops, it is not necessary to give the name of crop raised, except in the following instances:—

Jute, coconuts, pan, market produce (i.e., kitchen gardens), flowers and fruit.

Thus where the cultivator raises as his principal crop jute, coconut, pan, market produce, flowers or fruit the enumerator will enter the name of the crop in Q. 14.

Question 16 (Business of employer).

In districts where certain great industries are widely extended, much time may be saved, and a useful uniformity may be secured by issuing a simple direction as to the entry against this question in the slips of the employees of this industry.

Thus, persons employed in tea-gardens are in most cases the employees of firms whose business is “tea cultivation”. In the case of such persons therefore the entry will always be “tea cultivation”.

In the mining areas of Asansol, Q. 16, in the case of most employees, will be answered by “coal-mining”.

In jute-mill areas the answer to Q. 16, in the case of most mill hands, will be “jute weaving”.

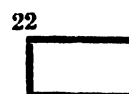

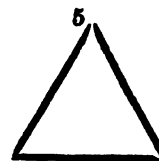

Teachers in schools and colleges are an important class of persons who are employed for cash remuneration. Their employers are usually school committees or similar bodies. The business of such committees, etc., is presumably “education”. Therefore in the case of teachers employed for cash remuneration, the entry in Q. 16 will normally be “education”.

Government servants are employed by Government, whose business is Government administration. In the case of Government servants, it will be sufficient to write “Government” in Q. 16. For municipal or district board employees, it will be sufficient to write “Municipality”, or “District Board” in Q. 16.

A facsimile of the enumeration slip is reproduced below.

Code Number.

a) _____ (b) _____

(2)

Procedure to be followed by the enumerator during the census period.

Enumerator begins on 19th February 1941.

(i) The enumerator will start his rounds on the morning of 19th February 1941. He will take with him his enumeration pad, the questionnaire, his manual of instructions and his extract of the house-list.

He writes code number and house number at the head of each slip.

(ii) Before beginning, he should already have written the code number of his block at the head of each slip of his pad. As he comes to each house, he will write the number of the house against the asterisk on each slip. A separate slip will be used for each person. The slips for each person in the same census house will therefore bear the same house-number.

He should enumerate himself and his family first.

(iii) The first persons to be enumerated should be the enumerator himself, and his family. If he postpones this, there is some danger that in his anxiety to enumerate others he may forget to count himself.

Order and time in which to proceed.

(iv) He will proceed from house to house in the order indicated in the house-list. He should endeavour to time his visits at the moment when the majority of the people he has to enumerate will be in their homes.

The first question.

(v) His first question will invariably be "Have you been enumerated before at this census?" If the answer is "No", he will proceed to enumerate him. If it is "Yes", he will refrain.

NOTE.—If the enumerator disbelieves, or for good reason doubts, the answer given to this preliminary question, he should refer to his supervisor for instructions.

The last warning.

(vi) After concluding the enumeration of a particular person, the enumerator will not fail to warn the person enumerated that having been counted once, he must not allow himself to be counted a second time.

How to deal with residents.

(vii) In this way, all residents of the house whom the enumerator finds present will be enumerated. If any member of household is not at home for the moment but will return and sleep that night in the house, the enumerator need not insist upon his presence, but may proceed to record his particulars upon a slip as though he were actually present, provided the enumerator finds someone who can answer the questions on his behalf. Thus, persons who are working in the fields, or who have gone to the bazaar, or are engaged on errands of a similar description, need not be specially recalled for enumeration. If there is no one who can answer on behalf of the person absent, the enumerator must either repeat his visit when the person has returned, or else go and seek him where he happens to be.

Temporary absentees.

(viii) A person who is normally resident in a census house, but is absent, and will not return to sleep in the house on the date of the enumerator's visit, is a "temporary absentee". If the enumerator finds that any member of the household is a temporary absentee, he will mark the house with a tick (✓) in his house-list extract, to serve as a reminder that on his revisional round (beginning on 2nd March 1941), he must ascertain if the absentee has returned, and enumerate him if he has returned.

Visitors.

(ix) If a person is found in a census house who is not normally a resident within that house, but has his home elsewhere, he will be regarded as a "visitor". When the enumerator encounters a visitor in a census house, he will ask him if he will be back in his own home on or before 1st March. If the answer is "Yes", he will take no action. If the answer is "No", or "I do not know", he will enumerate him, unless, after enquiry, he learns that the visitor has already been enumerated. In his house-list extract, the enumerator will mark with a cross (x) all the houses in which he has found visitors.

NOTE.—The visitor may have his home in a State or Province outside Bengal, or even outside India. These visitors will be treated in the same way as visitors whose homes are in Bengal.

[Exception in respect of Sikkim State and Chittagong Hill Tracts.—In Sikkim State and Chittagong Hill Tracts there will probably be no revisional round. If a native of Sikkim State or of Chittagong Hill Tracts returns from a visit to Bengal, and arrives home about 1st March, he may find that the enumerator has visited his house before his return. As the enumerator will not make a second round, these persons may escape enumeration altogether, unless they are enumerated wherever they are found. Therefore all enumerators must note the following rule, which is an exception to the general rule regarding visitors:—Where the visitor has his home in Sikkim State or Chittagong Hill Tracts, the enumerator will proceed to enumerate him in the house in which he finds him (unless he has already been enumerated), no matter when the visitor may be returning to his home.]

(x) The enumerator must have visited every house in his block by the evening of 1st March 1941. Preliminary round ends.

(xi) On the morning of 2nd March, the enumerator will start on his revisional round. He must conclude this round by the evening of 4th March or sooner if possible. He will visit every house. At each house he will ask if a birth has occurred since his first visit, and before sunrise of 1st March. If a birth has occurred, he will at once enumerate the child, if it is living. At the same time he will correct the mother's slip, against questions 7 and 8. He will next ask if any person enumerated has died before sunrise of 1st March. If there has been such a death, he will cancel the slip of the deceased person. Revisional round begins. Births and deaths.

NOTE.—A slip must never be torn out or destroyed. To cancel a slip, draw a diagonal line across it, and write "cancelled". If the cancellation is due to the death of the enumerated person, write also the word "Died" followed by the date of the death.

(xii) No action will be taken in respect of births or deaths occurring after sunrise of 1st March 1941.

(xiii) If he finds any new arrival (whether visitor or a member of the family), the enumerator will ask him if he has already been enumerated. If the answer is "Yes", he will take no action. If the answer is "No", he will enumerate him. New arrivals.

(xiv) The enumerator, when he comes to a house which he has marked with a ✓ in his extract [see paragraph (vii)], will enquire if the absentee has returned. If he has, he will ask him "Have you already been enumerated?" If the answer is "Yes", he will take no further action. If the answer is "No", he will enumerate him. Returned absentees.

(xv) When he comes to a house which he has marked in his extract with a × [see paragraph (ix)], the enumerator will ask if any of the visitors are still living in the house. If they are, he will enumerate them, unless they have already been enumerated by himself or some-one else. Undeparted visitors.

(xvi) A large part of the floating population will be found during the census period lodged in hotels and sarais. These will best be dealt with by a simultaneous count conducted on 1st March 1941. On this date the enumerator will visit each hotel in his block and record the particulars of the persons living in the hotel. On this occasion also the enumerator will take the opportunity to count the permanent members of the hotel staff, i.e., the proprietor and manager (if resident), servants, and their families. The enumerator must be particularly careful when dealing with travellers to ascertain whether any of them have been previously enumerated. It is possible that travellers who have escaped enumeration elsewhere may arrive at hotels after the 1st of March. To catch these people the enumerator should visit the hotel daily on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of March and there enumerate all the travellers who have not yet been counted by himself or some other enumerator. These daily visits will not throw a heavy burden on the enumerator as the persons who will require to be enumerated are not likely to be many except in large and busy hotels. Such hotels will in most cases be separate blocks and the enumerators will be able to devote all their time to them. Floating population. Hotels.

(xvii) Boat dwellers will usually be found at the ghats where boats are moored. They will be counted on the 1st of March. Wandering tribes, homeless vagrants, coolie gangs, etc., who may be found within the block, lodged either in encampments or at random, will likewise be counted on the 1st of March. The best time to catch these is in the evening, when they have settled down for the night. Boat dwellers, etc.

NOTE.—In cities and large railway stations there is always likely to be a number of vagrants who sleep in the streets or on railway platforms and entrances. Enumerators should, therefore, ascertain beforehand any areas of their block which vagrants of this description are disposed to frequent. On the evening of 1st March they should not fail to visit these areas.

(xviii) Boarders in schools and hostels will be counted on the morning of the 1st March. Boarders.

(xix) Prisoners and warders lodged in jails and sub-jails will be counted at any convenient time on the 1st of March. Prisoners whose discharge is impending will be warned that they have been enumerated and that they must not let themselves be counted elsewhere. All prisoners and warders who may arrive in the jail after the 1st of March will be asked by the officer in charge of the census of the jail whether they have been enumerated yet. If the enumerator of the jail is a member of the jail staff all new arrivals who have not yet been counted will be enumerated as soon as they Jails.

arrive. If the enumerator is not a member of the jail staff, he will pay a final visit to the jail in the evening of 4th March and enumerate the uncounted inmates. The officer in charge of the census in the jail will have these inmates ready for the enumerator at that time.

Hospitals.

(xx) In-patients lying in hospital wards will be counted at some convenient time on 1st March. On the same day or on the previous day, if that is found more suitable, the resident hospital staff—doctors, nurses, orderlies and menials—will likewise be counted. Patients arriving after the 1st March will be asked at the time of admission by the officer in charge of the census of the hospital whether they have yet been enumerated. A list will be kept of new patients who have not been enumerated and these will be counted by the enumerator on his final visit on the evening of 4th March.

NOTE.—If the enumerator is himself a member of the hospital staff, it would probably be more convenient to enumerate each patient arriving after the 1st of March at the time of his admission.

Asylums.

(xxi) Inmates of lunatic asylums and similar institutions will be enumerated in the same way as inmates of jails and hospitals.

Police lines.

(xxii) Personnel lodged in police lines and barracks should be enumerated, if possible, at some convenient time on 1st March. The method suggested is to call up squads in rotation for enumeration and dismiss each squad after enumeration. The first squad so dismissed may be employed until enumeration is over in removing from the lines persons who are not resident there. The occupants of married quarters within the lines will be enumerated on the same day. Police personnel detached from the lines for special duty will be enumerated either before their departure or on their arrival at their destination. If their departure takes place no more than 2 or 3 days before 1st March, it will be most convenient to enumerate them before their departure.

Publicity.

(xxiii) If the foregoing instructions are diligently followed, it is not likely that many individuals will escape the count. Instances may occur, however, where through a chain of coincidences a person, without intentionally dodging the enumerator, may be unlucky enough to miss him at the time of his visits. It is incumbent on district census officers to employ such means of publicity as are open to them to advertise the approach of enumeration and to exhort the public generally to co-operate. In particular on the 3rd and 4th of March 1941 it is suggested that district census officers should recommend all union boards and municipalities to announce by beat of drum that enumeration is about to close and that all persons who have not yet been enumerated should seek out their enumerators at once. A warning in similar terms may be published in newspapers which circulate in the district.

Inspection by supervisors.

(xxiv) Throughout the period of enumeration supervisors should move about their circles and inspect the work of their enumerators. Supervisors are required to check not less than 20 per cent. of the total entries.

Enumerators' abstracts and charge and circle summaries.

Rendezvous.

1. On the 5th March, enumerators will assemble at a place within their circle assigned by their supervisor. They will bring with them all their enumeration pads, both used and unused, and any loose slips which they may have been given. The supervisor will deal with each enumerator in turn. He will first check the number of pads and loose slips returned with the number issued and see that none has been withheld or lost. The enumerators will then prepare the enumerator's abstract. The form of the abstract is shown in the appendix. Each enumerator will have filled up on an average from 3 to 4 pads. He will first extract the detail of each pad, and write it on the cardboard cover. Loose slips will be stitched together by the enumerator, and the detail will be written on the back of the final slip. Having completed this, he will fill in the abstract in manuscript. He will then hand the pads with the abstract to the supervisor, who will at once check each pad with the detail written on the cover, and with the detail recorded in the enumerator's abstract. He will also take the opportunity to make a further check of the entries in the slips. When the check is complete, the supervisor will take into his custody the pads, loose slips and enumerator's abstract.

Enumerator's abstract.

Checked by supervisor.

NORM.—To assist in the check, the supervisor may take the assistance of reserve enumerators, who have not enumerated any block themselves. Reserve enumerators should therefore be directed to attend. Reserve enumerators employed in checking will report to the supervisor any discrepancy they detect.

2. On the same day the supervisor will prepare the circle summary in duplicate. The form is given in the appendix, and will be supplied. He will then stitch together the enumerators' abstracts with the original of the circle summary. He will next arrange the pads and slips serially by blocks, and then by mauzas making separate bundles by mauzas. To each bundle he will attach a ticket giving the name of the mauza.

Circle summary
in duplicate.

3. On the 6th March, the supervisors will assemble at a place previously assigned by the charge superintendent. They will bring with them the pads and loose slips, the enumerators' extracts and circle summaries. The charge superintendent will at this place check each enumerator's extract with the supervisor's summary, employing for this purpose two supervisors, who will work independently. In the same way he will check each circle summary with his charge register to see that no block has been omitted. He will then compile his charge summary in the printed form which will already have been supplied to him. The form is given in the appendix. Having done this he will stitch to his charge summary the spare copies of the circle summaries.

Charge summary.

NOTE.—Supervisors should have filled in beforehand from their circle registers columns 1 and 2 of the circle summaries.

Charge superintendents likewise should have filled in beforehand column 1 of their charge summary. If this is not done beforehand, pads relating to a block, mauza or circle, may be lost sight of, and not noticed at the time of checking.

4. The charge superintendent will then once more check the entries posted in his charge summary; and then send to the district census officer the entire set of abstracts; i.e., one set containing the charge summary, with circle summaries attached; and the other set of circle summaries, to each of which has been attached a set of the relevant enumerator's abstracts.

abstracts, etc.

5. The charge superintendent will retain in his custody the pads and loose slips and will dispose of them according to the directions he receives from the district census officer. Meanwhile, he will check the arrangement of pads made by his supervisors. He will see that pads are arranged serially by blocks; and that bundles of pads representing blocks are serially arranged in larger parcels representing mauzas. He will then assort these parcels by circles. To check this arrangement he will utilise his charge register, and also the list which was prescribed in circular No. 6, at page 6, the last two paragraphs of section 29.

NOTE.—The only case where a block may contain more than one mauza, is where one of the mauzas is uninhabited. The charge superintendent will therefore add an explanatory note in the list against each block which contains an uninhabited mauza, stating the name of the mauza which is uninhabited.

Substitute the following for rule 27:—

(a) Ten Bengal Government stipends of the value of Rs. 12-8 each a month will be granted to students (only bona fide natives of Bengal) other than those who are already in receipt of stipends from district boards, or other bodies, as shown below:—

A class, 4 stipends;

B class, 3 stipends;

C class, 3 stipends.

The above stipends will be awarded to the students who have competed at the first terminal class examination in class A and to the students in classes B and C in accordance with their placing at the annual professional examinations. The Principal may stop the whole or part of any stipend whether awarded by Government or local bodies for indifferent progress, irregular conduct, or misbehaviour, etc. A note to this effect will be made in the students' personal files.

Out of the above ten stipends, three should be reserved for Muslim students, one for each of the three classes. The Muslim students should ordinarily be allowed to compete with those of other communities in these examinations and qualify for the stipends. If, however, they fail to secure the stipends in the general competition, the reserved stipends should be awarded to those who secure the first position in each class among Muslim students at the examinations.

(b) Twenty additional stipends of the value of Rs. 12-8 each a month will be granted by the Bengal Government to poor students only of the Muslim and Scheduled Caste communities (only bona fide natives of Bengal) who have attained the prescribed standard of general education, are otherwise eligible for admission and are not in receipt of stipends from district boards or other bodies. The stipends will lapse if suitable Muslim or Scheduled Caste candidates be not forthcoming. The poverty of the candidates must be certified by the headmasters of the schools

No. 2511R.I.—18th November 1940.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 55 of the Bengal Agricultural Debtors Act, 1935 (Bengal Act VII of 1936), the Governor is pleased to make the following amendments in the Bengal Agricultural Debtors Rules, 1936, published with notification No. 9187L.R., dated the 26th June 1936, as subsequently amended, namely:—

1. In rule 50A(3) of the said rules, the words “after the fees referred to in the said rule have been paid” shall be omitted.

2. After rule 50A of the said rules, the following rules shall be inserted:—

Procedure to be followed in determining the amount of principal and interest of a debt to which sub-section (5) or (6) of section 18 applies.

50B. (1) For the purpose of enabling the Board to make the determination under sub-section (2) of section 18 in respect of a debt to which the provisions of sub-section (5) of that section apply, the Collector shall, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette and in such other manner as the Provincial Government may direct,—

- (a) as soon as possible after the publication of this rule, declare for the whole district or any part thereof the normal outturn per acre of each of the principal crops grown in his district;
- (b) as soon as possible after the publication of this rule, and in the month of January in each subsequent year, declare the price per maund of each such crop during the month following the harvest in each of the preceding fifteen years;

(2) (a) For the purpose of the declaration under clause (a) of sub-rule (1), the Collector shall take the figures in Schedule I appended to these rules for each of the crops mentioned in that Schedule as the normal outturn per acre of such crop, unless he is, for reasons to be recorded in writing, satisfied that any other figure should be declared as the normal outturn for any part of the district.

(b) For the purpose of declaration under clause (b) of sub-rule (1), the Collector shall—

- (i) take the figure for his district contained in Appendix VI of the Annual Season and Crop Report, Bengal, with regard to each of the crops mentioned in that Appendix as the price per maund of such crop, unless for reasons to be recorded in writing he is satisfied that a different figure should be taken for any part of the district;
- (ii) take the price per maund of aus and aman paddy to be half the price shown in the said Appendix for autumn and winter rice respectively, and the price of sugarcane to be 1/15th of the price of gur.

(3) Every preliminary declaration published under sub-rule (1) shall further state that any objection received by the Collector within thirty days from the date of such publication will be considered by him.

(4) After considering the objections, if any, received under sub-rule (3), the Collector shall, if necessary, amend the declaration and shall finally publish it.

(5) The Collector shall then annually by reference to the declarations finally published under sub-rule (4), calculate the value deemed to have been received per acre of each crop during the several periods from each of the fifteen years referred to in clause (b) of sub-rule (1) up to the end of the year previous to the calculation, in the district or any part thereof, and shall communicate the figures so arrived at to each Board in the district in the manner shown in Form VIIIA.

50C. Where the Board is satisfied that an account of receipts and expenses kept by the creditor regarding the use of any land of the debtor possessed by him is correct, it may accept such account for the purposes of sub-sections (5) and (6) of section 18.

50D. When no such account is kept or where the Board does not find an account so kept to be correct the Board shall—

- (1) calculate the area of the property by reference to the particulars furnished in the application or statement of debt under clause (cc) of sub-section (1) of section 11;
- (2) calculate the receipts of the creditor from each of the crops mentioned in form VIIIA grown on such area by multiplying the area normally cultivated with such crop by the figure in form VIIIA for that crop shown against the year in which the debt was incurred, adding thereto any amount received on account of any such crop harvested after the expiry of the latest year mentioned in form VIIIA.
- (3) calculate in the manner directed by the Collector the receipts of the creditor from crops other than those mentioned in form VIIIA (such as boro paddy or mangoes) grown on the area referred to in clause (1) of this rule and the receipts of the creditor in respect of the property from any other sources (such as fish from any tank on the property).

50E. (1) One-half of the total receipts calculated under clauses (2) and (3) of rule 50D less the amount of any sum paid by the creditor as rent during the period of the debt shall be deducted by the Board from the total receipts as expenses incurred by the creditor for the cultivation or management of the property.

(2) The net receipts remaining after the deduction under sub-rule (1) shall, for the purpose of sub-section (5) of section 18, be deemed to be the amount to be credited towards repayment of the debt.

50F. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of interest due on the original principal of the debt the Board shall, for the entire period of the debt, calculate such interest at the rate of two-thirds of the maximum rate specified for simple interest in any law for the time being in force for control of money-lending.

50G. (1) Where a loan has been made in kind, the Board shall, for the purpose of clause (b) of sub-section (6) of section 18, calculate the money value of such loan with reference to the figure shown in form VIIIB for the crop in which the loan was made against the year in which the loan was made.

(2) Where any interest has been paid in kind, the Board shall, for the purpose of clause (b) of sub-section (6) of section 18, calculate the money value of such payments with reference to the figures shown in form VIIIB for the crop with which interest was paid against the years in which such payments were made.

(3) If the loan was made or if the interest was paid in any other crop than those mentioned in form VIIIB, the Board shall estimate the money value of the loan or of interest payment at such amount as it may consider to be fair and reasonable.

3. After rule 91 of the said rules the following heading and rules shall be inserted, namely:—

“Review (section 44).”

91A. No application under clause (a) of section 44 for review of any decision or order passed by a Board shall be entertained and no Board shall make any order reviewing, of its own motion under the said clause, any decision or order passed by it, if an appeal has been preferred under the Act from such decision or order.

91B. An application for review under clause (a) of section 44 shall ordinarily be made within sixty days of the date of the decision or order of the Board and a Board may also, of its own motion, review its decision or order within sixty days of the date of the decision or order passed by it:

Provided that no action shall be taken by a Board on an application for review made after the said period of sixty days and no Board shall review its decision or order after the said period save with the sanction of the Collector.

91C. In deciding whether sanction should be given under rule 91B or not, the Collector shall consider—

- (a) whether any material illegality or irregularity has occurred;
- (b) whether substantial injustice, hardship or difficulty has been occasioned; and
- (c) whether the applicant had good and sufficient reasons for not making the application within sixty days of the date of the decision or order of the Board as required under rule 91B.

91D. No application to review an order made on an application for a review or an order made on a review under clause (a) of section 44 shall be entertained.”

5. At the end of the said rules the following schedule shall be added, namely:—

[As modified up to the 4th November 1940.]

No. M.-1262.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-rule (1) of rule 55 of the Defence of India Rules, the Central Government is pleased to make the following Order:—

1. (1) This Order may be called the Petroleum Premises (Fire Protection) Order, 1940.

(2) It shall extend to all premises used for the storage of petroleum and situated:—

(a) within a radius of twenty miles from the ports of—

- (i) Bombay,
- (ii) Calcutta,
- (iii) Madras,
- (iv) Karachi,
- (v) Cocanada,

(b) within British Cochin;

(bb) within the Lakhimpur District of the Province of Assam;

(c) at or near oil wells, oil pumping stations and oil refineries in—

- (i) The Punjab,
- (ii) Assam,

other than premises of which the storage capacity does not exceed 5,000 gallons of petroleum in bulk and 25,000 gallons of petroleum otherwise than in bulk, or in which all petroleum is stored completely underground in such manner as may be approved by the Chief Inspector.

(3) The provisions of this Order shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in the Petroleum Act, 1934 (XXX of 1934), or in the Petroleum Rules, 1937, or in any licence issued thereunder.

2. Unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, all words and expressions used in this Order and defined in the Petroleum Act, 1934 (XXX of 1934), or in the rules framed thereunder shall have the meanings so assigned to them.

3. A distance of not less than one thousand feet shall be kept clear—

- (i) between one storage tank and another,
- (ii) between a storage tank and a storage shed, and
- (iii) between a storage tank or storage shed and any protected work:

Provided that nothing in this clause shall require alterations to be made in storage tanks, storage sheds or protected works in existence on the date of this Order.

4. (1) Every storage tank containing petroleum shall be surrounded by a separate enclosure consisting of a wall or embankment capable of preventing the escape from the enclosure of any petroleum in the form of liquid whether under the action of fire or otherwise.

(2) Every such enclosure shall be of dimensions sufficient to contain—

- (a) if the petroleum stored is dangerous petroleum, ten per cent. more than the tank is capable of containing, and
- (b) if the petroleum stored is non-dangerous petroleum, the amount the tank is capable of containing.

(3) No enclosure shall be deemed to be capable of preventing the escape of petroleum in the form of liquid under the action of fire, unless such enclosure consists of either—

- (a) an earthen embankment,
- (b) a wall of brick banked with earth on either side to its full height, or
- (c) a wall of stone or reinforced concrete.

(4) The wall of stone or reinforced concrete referred to in item (c) of sub-clause (3) shall, if the storage tank contains dangerous petroleum, be lined on the inner face with a fire and heat resisting lining not less than three inches thick and composed of foamed slag, slag or reinforced concrete blocks, fire-brick or other material approved by the Chief Inspector, and all iron and steel used in the construction of reinforced concrete shall be protected by not less than one inch of concrete.

(5) All damage whether from hostile action or otherwise to an enclosure mentioned in sub-clause (1) shall be repaired without avoidable delay; and for this purpose there shall be provided for each such enclosure filled sand bags sufficient to close a ten-foot breach in the enclosure wall and other materials and tools, all of which shall be kept in the immediate vicinity of the enclosure.

4A. (1) When in the opinion of the Conservator of the port, damage from hostile action, or otherwise, to any such enclosure as is mentioned in sub-clause (1) of clause 4, and situated in or in the vicinity of the port, would involve a risk of—

(a) escape of petroleum into any dock, harbour, or waterway, or

(b) danger to property in or in the vicinity of the port,

he shall order the holder of the licence for the storage of petroleum in the premises concerned to erect around such enclosure at a distance of not less than thirty feet a substantial wall or embankment constructed either of earth or of two layers of inter-lock sheet piling not less than five feet apart, the intervening space being filled with earth:

Provided that if the Conservator is of opinion that it is impracticable to erect a wall or embankment in the manner aforesaid, he shall, after consulting the Chief Inspector, issue such other orders to the holder of the said licence as may be necessary for carrying out the purposes of this sub-clause;

(2) The holder of the said licence shall comply with any order issued under sub-clause (1) within such time as is mentioned in the order.

5. (1) Every valve or other opening for the drainage of water from the enclosure of a storage tank or storage shed shall be provided with a lock and key and shall be kept closed and locked except when it is necessary to draw off water from the enclosure.

(2) Every such valve or opening shall be so constructed and maintained as to prevent when closed the escape of any liquid from the enclosure whether under the action of fire or otherwise.

(3) At premises where there is more than one enclosure surrounding storage tanks or storage sheds an efficient tell-tale shall be maintained in the office of the responsible agent or supervisor clearly indicating the location of any unclosed valves or other openings.

6. (1) Splinter proof shelters shall be provided for all main fire equipment, personnel employed in fire-fighting and air-raid precautions duties, and pump houses.

(2) The walls and roofs of all such shelters shall be constructed of either—

(a) brick work not less than fourteen inches thick;

(b) brick work not less than nine inches thick faced with sandbags;

(c) reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick;

(d) sandbags or earth not less than two and a half feet thick; or

(e) two fences of iron sheeting two feet apart, the intervening space being filled with shingle.

7. A sufficient number of trained fire fighting staff, drilled in their duties at least once a week, shall be ready for duty by night and day in the vicinity of all premises used for the storage of petroleum.

8. (1) For every thirty million gallons of petroleum stored there shall be provided the fire fighting equipment specified in the Schedule to this Order.

(2) For any quantity of storage less than thirty million gallons, the scale of equipment specified in the said Schedule may be reduced to such extent as may be approved by the Chief Inspector.

(3) All fire fighting equipment required by this clause shall be provided with interchangeable fittings, couplings, connections, nozzles and hoses of sizes and types which shall be common to all premises within each of the areas mentioned in sub-clause (2) of clause 1.

(4) The Chief Inspector may issue such directions as he may consider necessary for the purpose of securing compliance with the provisions of sub-clause (3).

9. (1) For every thirty million gallons of petroleum stored there shall be provided a main fire pump drawing its supply from a permanent source other than the public mains, and maintaining when in use a constant flow of one thousand gallons of water a minute at a pressure of not less than one hundred pounds per square inch in the water main specified in sub-clause (2).

(2) Water from the main fire pump shall be distributed in a service fire main not less than ten inches in diameter and shall be used for fire fighting purposes only. All stand pipes and other delivery points shall be directly fed from this main.

(3) An additional supply of water, pipes and connections shall be maintained at all premises sufficient to cool effectively every storage tank on the premises without reducing the supply of water for fire fighting purposes.

10. For the purposes of clauses 6, 7, 8 and 9, all premises separated by a distance of not more than one mile from one another shall be combined and the scale of equipment and fire fighting facilities required by the said clauses shall be such as may be required by their combined storage.

11. All measures necessary for compliance with the provisions of this Order excepting clause 4A shall be completed within two months from the date of this Order by the holder of the licence for the storage of petroleum in the premises concerned.

12. The Chief Inspector may, for special reasons,—

- (i) exempt, either conditionally or unconditionally, any premises from all or any of the provisions of clauses 3 to 10;
- (ii) extend in respect of any premises, either conditionally or unconditionally, the limit of time prescribed in clause 11.

SCHEDULE.

Note.—Since the 1st January 1929 the datum of all gauges has been finally altered to refer to the Bengal Public Works Department datum which is 6.25 feet reduced levels recorded since each gauge was established have been prepared.
*The zero of the Buxar gauge has been checked from the G. T. S. Bench marks Nos. 125 and 126 on line 70K and found to be 169.91 feet above the Bengal datum and from 1st January 1931, high water level and low water level readings are shown at Swarupganj.
(A) The value of the zero of the gauge at the station was -9.02 feet from 1st to 28th November 1940 and -4.02 feet from 29th to 30th November 1940. Hence the value of the zero of the gauge at the station was 39.54 feet from 1st to 12th November 1940, 30.33 feet from 13th to 16th November 1940 and 33.93 feet from 17th to 30th November 1940 = 5.80 feet.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 114Com.—13th January 1941.—Whereas in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929 (VII of 1929), a Court of Inquiry was appointed under notification No. 2154Com., dated the 29th June 1940, to investigate the trade dispute between Messrs. George Henderson and Co., Ltd., of 101/1, Clive Street, Calcutta, Managing Agents, Bally Jute Mill, Bally, district Howrah, and the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments of the said Mill;—

And whereas, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 5 of the said Act, the Court of Inquiry has submitted its report to the Governor;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 12 of the said Act, the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said report in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,

M. K. KIRPALANI,

Joint Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report of the Court of Enquiry appointed under section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929 (Act VII of 1929), to investigate the trade dispute between Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., of 101/1, Clive Street, Calcutta, Managing Agents, Bally Jute Mill, Bally, district Howrah, and the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments of the said Mill.

This report arises out of a Court of Inquiry set up under section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act to investigate the dispute existing between the workers of the Weaving and Jute Departments on the one hand, and the management on the other, of the Bally Jute Mills. These mills are situated at Bally, in the district of Howrah, and managed by Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., of Calcutta. At the time that the incidents connected with the present proceedings occurred, Mr. H. C. Wilkie was the Manager of the mill, Mr. J. C. K. Watson was the Overseer in charge of the Jute Department, and Mr. Craig in charge of the Weaving Department. Mr. McKenzie officiated for Mr. Watson for a few weeks in December 1939 and January 1940.

The circumstances leading up to the enquiry are these:—

In August 1939, some workers of the Weaving Department headed by Khalil approached the Manager with allegations of bribery and extortion against one Karim Sardar. Not much heed, it is said, was paid to the complaint, and the aggrieved men thinking that redress would not be possible through the proper channel, were persuaded to seek the help of the Bengal National Jute Workers' Union. An investigation was made by Mr. Shafaatullah Khan, but that was as far as the matter got. The men then appealed to the Labour Commissioner who wrote to the Manager on 21st September 1939, asking for the full facts. In reply the Managing Agents said that as the investigation had indicated the probability of the truth of the charges against Karim, steps would be taken for his dismissal. Soon after this a complaint was received from Mr. Shafaatullah Khan that the dismissal of Karim had also involved the discharge of Khalil and several others who were members of his Union. There was a joint enquiry by the Assistant Labour Commissioner and Mr. Das, the Labour Officer of the Indian Jute Mills Association, on the 12th December 1939. It was represented to the Assistant Labour Commissioner that except six men, Khalil, Jalil, Bechu, Nabi, Sadeq and Abdul Satter who had been dismissed for an incident on 5th October 1939, the others had been suspended for bad work and would be reinstated as soon as work was available. Nothing, however, came of this assurance, and on 9th January 1940, some of the suspended men came to the Labour Commissioner to say that they had not yet got their jobs back. The management's reply to his enquiry was that only four of the men had been suspended, while the others had been dismissed for misconduct and breach of discipline, thus resiling from their previous statement that with the exception of six persons the rest had been subjected simply to temporary suspension. As the company's attitude in this respect seemed to be unrelenting, and all efforts for a satisfactory arrangement failed, the only course left open was the appointment of a Court of Inquiry.

While this dispute was in progress, signs of trouble were manifest among workers in another department of the mill. The relevant facts are as follows:—

On the 29th December 1939, the Manager received a petition signed by some bale-carriers and coolies containing allegations of bribery and extortion against the Babus of the Jute Department. It was alleged that workers had to bribe the clerks to get jobs and to keep them. It was said that the attendance register was so manipulated that men received wages far more than their due share of work, the balance going into the pockets of the Babus. It was also suggested that bogus tickets of bale-carriers and coolies were kept and their wages dishonestly appropriated by the clerks. The complaint led to an enquiry by the Manager who was unable to detect any irregularity, though the men contended that some bogus tickets had been discovered at the time. No action was taken until, it is said, the men, finding no improvement in the situation, sent a petition direct to the Managing Agents. The petition was refused, but the Sales Master came down on the 3rd February 1940, and questioned some of the men. It was a Pyrrhic victory for the workers, however, as from the following Monday the services of 28 bale-carriers and coolies were dispensed with. After being turned away from the mill gates, the men approached the Labour Commissioner, but his attempts to intercede with the management on their behalf met with little response. Nevertheless, the Labour Commissioner visited the mill. He questioned the men, examined the attendance registers and was convinced that there was some substance in the allegations of bribery against the clerical staff. Also the entry of some names in the register in unusual places pointed almost beyond doubt to interpolation, while the clerks' failure to explain the numerous corrections and erasures seemed to lend considerable support to the theory of bogus tickets. Regarding the wholesale dismissals on 5th February the Manager's explanation was that this was due to retrenchment. He also said that apprehending trouble from the discharged men he had recruited new hands temporarily so as to prevent disorganisation of work in the event of a strike. The workers on the other hand maintained that the Manager's action was not so much a measure of retrenchment as a gesture of the company's disapproval of the men's attempt to subject it to pressure from outside. It might be mentioned here that during the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February the Manager made no mention of the engagement of these extra hands, and the fact was elicited later over the telephone. All attempts at conciliation met with scant sympathy from the management, and it became increasingly clear that if Government wanted a proper investigation it would have to be under the Trade Disputes Act.

As a matter of fact as early as 20th February 1940, Mr. Shafaat-ullah Khan had made an application that the dispute be referred to such a Court. A similar prayer had also been made previously in respect of the dismissals of certain weavers of the mill. Accordingly I was appointed to be the Court of Inquiry with the direction to enquire into and report on the circumstances of the trade dispute existing between the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments and Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., and in particular to report on—

- (1) Whether the allegations of bribery and extortion made by the workers against the clerical staff of the Jute Department are true;
- (2) Whether certain clerks of the Jute Department (e.g., Abhoy, Tripura, Moni and Nishu) jointly or severally kept bogus names of bale-carriers and coolies on the registers, and directly or indirectly through the workers received the weekly wages for these fictitious men;
- (3) Whether the labourers working in the Jute Department of the mill suffered by having to work overtime and on Sundays in order to complete the work represented to have been done by a greater number of men or in any other way, and if so, whether they were properly paid for the extra work;
- (4) Whether the dismissals of certain workers of the Jute Department on the 5th February 1940 were justified;
- (5) Whether the mill authorities attempted to give preference to those who had previously worked for the company in the case of any new hands recruited on or after the 5th February 1940; and, if such workmen were not given preference, on what grounds?
- (6) Whether there were sufficient and adequate reasons for the dismissal of a labourer named Jagat of the Jute Department on or about the 22nd February 1940;
- (7) Whether the dismissal of the following men of the Weaving Department was justified:—

Khalil Ahmed on or about 5th October 1939.

Jalil on or about 27th November 1939.

Bechu on or about 27th November 1939.

Nobi Muhammad on or about 27th November 1939,
Sadiq on or about 27th November 1939,
Abdul Sattar on or about 27th November 1939,

- (8) Were the following workers of the Weaving Department dismissed on or about 20th November 1939 or otherwise punished? If so, for what offences and with what justification:—

Rozan,
Bisnath,
Nasir,
Zakir,
Yusuf,
Bhagan,
Walijan alias Wali Muhammad and another.

The Court commenced its sitting on the 15th July 1940. The statement of the workers was already in the file and the written statement on behalf of the company was put in on the 25th July 1940. In all 32 witnesses were examined for the workers on various dates. The Manager gave evidence on behalf of the company, while the Factory Inspector, the Labour Commissioner and the Assistant Labour Commissioner were examined as Court witnesses. I also went round the mill and made enquiries from the labourers regarding the allegations of bribery against the Babus. Arguments were heard on the 9th August 1940. At the enquiry the management was represented by Mr. H. D. Kitching (Solicitor, Orr Dignam & Co.) and the workers by Mr. Shafaatullah Khan.

I shall now discuss the issues separately:—

1. Bribery and extortion of the clerks.

On this point the case of the workers is that they had to pay the various clerks of the Jute Department for securing employment. Homage in cash was also exacted from time to time as security for tenure of the jobs, while religious festivals became occasions for special peace offerings. It is alleged that the registers were so manipulated that the men received more wages than were due to them, the arrangement being that after receipt of their wages they would refund the excess amounts to the Babus who kept record of such payments. There was the further allegation that Tripura Babu forced many of the men to buy their provisions from his brother's shop at Uttarpara on pain of dismissal. The company did not hold any brief for the Babus, but stated that in spite of surprise checks and enquiries by the management, no case of bribery or extortion had been detected. They, however, were perfectly willing to render every assistance to the Court and were prepared to dismiss any of their staff found guilty of such offences, if Government so desired.

In a charge of this nature the evidence must, in the main, be oral, because it is not always easy to prove instances of illegal gratification on paper. Here we have the testimony of several workers who unequivocally assert that they had to pay money to Abhoy, Moni, Tripura and Nishu Babus before they could get any work. The charge against Abhoy Babu, the former Head Clerk, need not be considered in detail, as he has already retired from the service of the company. But it might be mentioned in passing that all the witnesses with one accord testify to the manner in which he exacted payments both at the time of recruitment and on special occasions such as the Durga Pujahs, Christmas and Kali Pujah. Money had also to be given from time to time to save the men from losing their jobs. Regarding Tripura Babu ten witnesses gave specific instances of payment. Dwarika, one of the bale-carriers dismissed on the 5th February 1940, says that after he returned to duty for the season in Sraban last he had to pay Rs. 15 as bribe to Tripura Babu before being able to join. He goes on to say that though from Sraban to Agrahayan last he worked only three or four days a week, he drew wages for five or six days and the excess wages had to be handed over to the Babus who kept a list showing the amounts due from each worker. Similarly Jagat, another dismissed bale-carrier, cites an instance of payment of Rs. 12 to Tripura Babu at the time of entering service in Ashar last. It appears that after working for four months he was forced to pay another Rs. 16 in order to retain his job. This amount of Rs. 12 he managed to secure by a loan of Rs. 8 from a Brahmin working in the Spinning Department of the mill, Rs. 3 from his brother in Kamarhaty, and the remaining Rs. 1 he paid from his pocket. The Brahmin, Ongre Pandey, supported his story of the loan. Mohon, a cooly, said that he paid Rs. 14 to Tripura Babu when he joined in October 1939, and a further sum of Rs. 8 in the following Pous on his return from leave. He borrowed Rs. 14 from a mahajan called Prahlad who corroborates the witness on this point. Similar instances of payment are mentioned by witnesses Mongal, Lala, Govindhari, Jamuna, Ramdas, Baleswar and Ramprakash. All of them except Mongal are still in the company's employ and, therefore, have no particular reason to depose falsely against the Babus. Rather they would run the risk of incurring their displeasure by speaking in support of the dismissed men. As regards Moni Babu and Nishu Babu the only witness who actually saw them taking money is Dwarika. The others have no first-hand knowledge of their guilt, though they are convinced that all the Babus took a share of the illegal proceeds. Tripura, Moni and Nishu Babus who were permitted to be present at the enquiry and to cross-examine the witnesses, contended that the nature of their testimony clearly indicated that they had been tutored; Tripura Babu said that the persons who had given evidence against him were mostly his brother's debtors for purchase made from his shop. Many of the witnesses denied the suggestion of being indebted to Tripura's brother, and this clerk did not produce any account books to prove his allegation as he had originally assured the Court he would do. On behalf of the workers it was urged that as Tripura's brother's clientèle had perforce to be large, it would not be surprising to find some of the witnesses in that category.

Mr. Kitching too pointed out the extreme similarity of their evidence which he thought was suggestive of concoction. I do not admit the logic of this argument. Having regard to the consistent manner in which the witnesses deposed, giving details of the time and circumstances of each payment which are not likely to have been fabricated, I am inclined to believe them. They are also supported by men who are still in service of the company, and so should have no cause to support the "malcontents". Another fact should be borne in mind, and that is that the fair fame of the Babus is not without blemish, for the Manager admitted that in 1936 on a similar complaint Moni and Abhoy Babus were fined Rs. 20 each for suspected bribery—rather a good instance of punishment not being made to fit the crime.

As regards the payment of excess wages the evidence of the witnesses is full and clear. Dwarika says that though from Sriban to Agrahayan he worked only three or four days a week he drew wages for five or six days; the excess amount was refunded to one or other of the Babus. Fekoo, a cooly, makes a similar statement, and so do Mongal, Bhikari, Jamuna, Ramdas, Ramprakash, Baleswar and Gobindhari. Mongol says that though he worked only one day in the first week of his recruitment, he was paid for the full week, viz., Rs. 11-14-6. Out of this he kept Rs. 1-15-6 and gave the balance to Tripura Babu. According to Jamuna and Ramdas, every week one or two days' wages had to be handed over to Tripura Babu. The witnesses described how the Babus kept lists showing the amounts thus due from each man, and how on every pay day the workers had to part unwillingly with their illgotten gains. Much of the evidence on this point has been left unassailed by cross-examination. Nor did Tripura, Moni or Nishu Babu adduce evidence to the contrary as they assured me at the beginning of the enquiry they would. In order to test the story further I went round the mill and questioned as many men of the Jute Department as possible, and came away with the conviction that the charge of bribery at least was substantially true. Of course many of them refused to tell me anything, but the way in which they declined to commit themselves gave me the impression that these men had been warned in their own interest to keep their mouths shut.

Moreover, a glance at the attendance register maintained by Nishu Babu will prove the extreme lack of supervision on the part of the authorities. The book is full of unauthorised and inexplicable alterations and entries, thereby making it possible for the clerks to keep a record of their own choice, a record over which the management exercised little control. I shall deal with this matter in detail when discussing the question of bogus tickets.

From a consideration of these circumstances, therefore, I am led to the conclusion that Abhoy, Moni, Tripura and Nishu Babus were in the habit of receiving bribes from the workers both at the time of recruitment and on special occasions; that they exacted this money by threats of dismissal or other manifestations of their displeasure; that they conspired with the workers to draw more wages than were fairly due to them, and appropriated to themselves the excess amounts.

2. Maintenance of bogus tickets.

As regards this issue the allegation is that the clerks kept bogus names of bale-carriers and coolies in the register, and with the help of the men (who no doubt were given a share of the proceeds) drew the wages of the non-existent persons. To prove this Dwarika says that he never knew any bale-carrier by the name of Lalu, Lagan, Lachman or Hira, though wages for these persons were drawn for several weeks by some of the workers and handed over to the Babus. Lala, another bale-carrier, corroborates Dwarika on this point. Saukhi Sardar admits that he too had never known any bale-carriers, called Lalu, Lagan, Lachman or Hira. Baleswar deposed that he drew wages on Lagan's ticket for three weeks and paid the money to Tripura Babu, while Ramprakash alleges to have done the same on Lalu's ticket for a similar period. It is interesting to note the statement of Ramprakash in cross-examination about the way in which he took off his pugrec to prevent recognition by the Kerani Sahib when he went up to receive the wages on the bogus ticket. Such a graphic description of an incident can, in my opinion, only proceed from actual experience. I do not think it probable that persons of the mental calibre of Ramprakash, Baleswar and others could have invented such a story. So far for the oral evidence.

The documentary evidence is no less significant. A reference to the attendance register of the Jute Department will make clear the numerous alterations, corrections and erasures of entries—most of them highly suspicious and inexplicable. To illustrate my point it will be convenient to examine the entries for some weeks during the period in question.

(a) Weeks ending 5th August 1939, 12th August 1939 and 19th August 1939.—No names of workers appear against Nos. 62 and 66, presumably because they were absent. This would seem to suggest that when a person was absent the practice was to leave a blank against his name in the register. But Nishu Babu who is responsible for the maintenance of the register said that as the names of workers were entered weeks ahead, absence without long notice necessitated correction of names. At least that is how he tried to explain the reason for so many alterations in the register. Clearly both these explanations cannot be correct. If the latter practice was in vogue, there seems to be no reason for the exception made during these few weeks in August; and if the custom was to omit the names, then the explanation given by the clerk is untenable. Another curious feature is that numbers given to different men are changed frequently without any rhyme or reason. Thus one Pardip who was allotted No. 68 from 26th August 1939 was suddenly given No. 76 from 21st October 1939, and his old number allotted to one Barhoo. Feku was No. 48 from 23rd September 1939, but from 21st October 1939 he became No. 77, and Jakhan became No. 48. Barhoo and Himraj were Nos. 93 and 94 on 11th November 1939, but were changed to 101 and 102 on 18th November 1939, and their old numbers given to Jagannath and Dipu. On 25th November 1939 Deonath and Jamuna were given Nos. 101 and 102 and Barhoo and Himraj became Nos. 103 and 104. Lachman and Hira who appeared on 25th November 1939 as Nos. 114 and 115 were given 120 and 121 on 2nd December 1939.

(b) Weeks ending 9th December 1939, 16th December 1939 and 23rd December 1939.—Lalu's and Lagan's names are evidently at the bottom of the page between Nos. 27 and 78, while Lachman and Hira reappear under Nos. 120 and 121. Abdul Gani, a pile-maker, comes at the bottom of the page as No. 124. There was plenty of space to write the names of Lalu, Lagan and Abdul Gani after the others as was done on 16th December 1939 and previously, but for some unknown reason this was not done. For the week ending 23rd December 1939 Kangali No. 72 was marked absent after being shown present, and in his place Hari No. 72A was put in.

(c) In the week ending 30th December 1939 Hari and Lachman were marked absent with "a", which is very unusual. The usual practice, so far as could be ascertained from the register, is to draw a line. The reason for this departure could not be explained by the clerk. Nishu Babu, on being questioned, said that he often did not check the attendance but relied on the information supplied by Abhoy Babu. Hence he said the numerous alterations. He also tried to make the Court believe that even the hours of attendance were noted beforehand in the register against each worker, and that if any one did not work full time, necessary alterations were made. But he could not reconcile this explanation with the numerous blanks in the attendance column against workers—presumably due to their absence from duty.

(d) Week ending 6th January 1940.—The attendance of Mahabir No. 8 on Saturday morning was marked and subsequently cancelled. A similar change was made in case of Himraj (No. 103) and Siree (No. 112). Again Lalu's name was inserted below No. 27 and the numerical order of bale-carrier changed suddenly, to reappear after No. 115.

(e) Week ending 13th January 1940.—Rameswar No. 83 is marked present after being shown absent on Saturday. Nathuni No. 28, Kusum No. 37 were marked present on Monday morning after having been shown absent. Alterations of the same nature were made in the case of Ramdas on Saturday and Analba on Thursday. Jokhan No. 71 in the same way was marked absent on Sunday and Wednesday though at first he was shown present. Instances of this kind could be multiplied, but the ones mentioned above will afford sufficient illustration, I think, of the lamentably slack supervision of the controlling staff. Nishu Babu of course says that these alterations were necessary as entries were generally made in advance without any reference to the actual attendance of workers. This explanation of his has unfortunately been shaken by the evidence of Mr. Craig, the Departmental Manager, who stated that the attendance of nobody was marked until he himself had checked it in the morning.

Now let us turn to the bogus tickets. The tickets specifically mentioned by the witnesses are those of Lalu, Lagan, Lachman and Hira. If we examine the place and the manner in which these names have been entered in the register, we will find ample ground for suspicion. It will appear that Lachman's and Hira's names were not for some reason written with the other bale-carriers; they come after the pile-makers in the week ending 25th November 1939. They disappear during the following weeks, but are shown on 9th December 1939, against Nos. 120 and 121, while their previous Nos. 114 and 116 are given to Mongal and Gobindhari. They work under these numbers until 23rd December 1939, and for the weeks ending 30th December 1939 and 6th January 1940 they are marked absent. No explanation of course is forthcoming as to why their names were entered for two weeks when they clearly were not working and no substitutes were taken.

As regards Lalu and Lagan they appear for the first time in the week ending 2nd December 1939, but it is curious that their names were entered in ink of a noticeably different shade to that of the other entries. During the ensuing weeks their names were again written in different ink and were inserted at the bottom of one of the intermediate pages of the register after serial No. 27, up to which point the serial numbers had proceeded in proper order. To make these entries extra pencil lines had been added. Nishu Babu's explanation before the Labour Commissioner was that he thought that he must have run out of ink just before he came to make the entries of Lalu and Lagan. As regards the position of the entries he explained that in the list of workers all the bale-carriers were entered consecutively and all the bale-makers were also grouped together, and that if Lalu and Lagan had been entered at the end of the list, their names would have been inconveniently separated from the other bale-carriers, and so in order to prevent this, he squeezed their names at the bottom of the page after

No. 27. For the week ending 16th December 1939 Lalu and Lagan were again entered at the bottom of the first page on pencil lines. This week it appeared, however, that Abdul Gani, although a pile-maker, was entered among the coolies. It cut the ground off Nishu Babu's feet rather. To counter this difficulty he wanted to say that Abdul Gani's name must have been forgotten until after the total of the wages on the previous pages had been added up, making it thereby impossible to insert his name among the pile-makers without upsetting the total. The explanation was futile, since Abdul Gani was shown as working from the beginning of the week, while the totals of wages could only have been made up at the end of the week and there could be no question of the insertion of his name after the making up of the totals. During the next week a change takes place, and Lalu and Lagan, though shown in the register, do not appear to have attended or received wages. Of course no reason could be assigned as to why their names were entered when they were not working from the beginning of the week. Lalu again appears on 6th January 1940 but is shown to have received no payment. Lagan conveniently drops out altogether. The dates are important. It may be recalled that the first petition to the Manager mentioning the existence of bogus tickets of Lalu and Lagan was dated 29th December 1939. Lalu and Lagan, though entered in the register, are not shown to have worked for the week ending 30th December 1939. It is curious that no attendance or wages were entered for the first time against these two names, in the very week in which the workers complained to the Manager, and that thereafter the names are omitted altogether. The irresistible inference is that the clerks, coming to know of the complaint and of the Manager's impending enquiry on 6th January 1940, thought it wise not to draw the wages on the bogus tickets. In this connection the entries for the week ending 6th January 1940 will reveal an interesting feature. Several names appear to have been scored through together with the attendance previously marked against them. The names are Ramswarup No. 33, Jagannath No. 40, Baleswar No. 43, Jokhan No. 48, Ram Nahar No. 49, Kissen No. 61, Ramadin No. 65 and Bargui No. 68. The strange thing about it is that they were originally shown as having worked for the whole week, but for some mysterious reason were crossed out. No explanation has been offered for this change by Nishu Babu beyond the statement that he often had to make these changes after consulting Abhoy Babu. By this he means, I suppose, that he relied upon Abhoy Babu to keep him informed of the absence of the workers from duty, though he is the Hazri Babu. It is very difficult to believe that so many persons would be marked present for a full week if really they had not been present at all. If Abhoy Babu knew of their absence it is not understood why he did not inform Nishu Babu about it for so many days. All these circumstances tend to lend support to the suggestion that these names were really bogus and that when the clerks came to know of the Manager's enquiry on 6th January 1940, they hastily marked them absent for the whole week in order to prevent exposure. As it turned out, however, the Manager never referred to the register at all for checking the payments, and the clerks were spared the ordeal of having to explain these unaccountable cancellations.

There is one matter which needs mention and that is the assertion made by some of the witnesses that at the time of the Manager's enquiry several bogus tickets were discovered. Mr. Wilkie has emphatically stated that he found no bogus tickets, and that only one ticket of Nasiruddin was left over in the box. I must accept his evidence in this respect, for I think it likely that the men having noticed at least one ticket in the box allowed their imagination to colour their judgment. Nor was the Manager's enquiry of much help. Mr. Wilkie's evidence is that he did not check the wage tickets with the attendance register on the day of enquiry, and that he was not in a position to say whether the workers, assembled in the godown, represented the total number of men actually working in the mill. Under these conditions it cannot be definitely inferred that because the Manager failed to detect bogus tickets in the box on 6th January 1940, there were no bogus names in the register. All that Nishu Babu had to do was to remove the bogus tickets from the box and the Manager would be none the wiser.

Mr. Kitching wondered why the men should, all of a sudden, have experienced righteous indignation at the clerks' dishonesty when they had been content so long to view the company's loss with equanimity. The reason is not far to seek, though we have no direct evidence of it. There is little doubt that the wages of these bogus tickets had to be drawn through the workers who must have exacted a price for their connivance, so that when there was a hitch among the partners the truth leaked out.

I am, therefore, satisfied from the materials on record that so far at least as Nishu Babu is concerned the only reasonable hypothesis on which the unaccountable entries in the register can be explained is that of this man's guilt. The facts admit of no other sensible explanation. The complicity of the other Babus also (Moni, Abhoy and Tripura) may safely be inferred from the attendant circumstances.

3. Working over-time and on Sundays.

Mr. Shafaatullah Khan agreed not to press this issue. It appeared from the evidence of the Factory Inspector that permission had always been taken for working on Sundays. Wages were also paid for attendance on those days. As to working over-time on week days the evidence of the men is inconclusive and it could not be ascertained how long, if at all, they were made to work after hours without remuneration. The company did not deny working over-time occasionally, but maintained that they did this without offending any of the provisions of the Factories Act. For this reason and in view of Mr. Shafaatullah Khan's reluctance to pursue the matter, my answer to this question must be in the negative.

4 & 5. Dismissal of workers of the Jute Department on 5th February 1940 and the recruitment of new hands.

These two issues may be taken up together, for it seems to me that the latter issue could appropriately be considered as a corollary of the former. The case for the employees is that Dwarika and the others (28 in all) were unjustly turned out on 5th February 1940, because the mill authorities thought that in appealing to the Managing Agents against their decision, the men had been guilty of lèse majesté. The company's reply to this is twofold. In the first place, it is asserted that the management is at liberty to dismiss any employee without any reason, provided due notice or wages in lieu thereof is given. And secondly, it was pointed out that in the present case the men had been discharged and not dismissed owing to the seasonal falling off of jute imports. In other words, the men were retrenched and not turned away for complaining against the authorities.

To judge better the merits of these opposite claims I collected such information as I could from the mill registers about the quantity of jute in hand round about that period. This would furnish some idea of the amount of work the mill would be expected to cope with. The following figures will serve as illustration:—

Bales received for the week ending:—

27th January 1940	... 4,120
20th January 1940	... 5,338
13th January 1940	... 4,318
6th January 1940	... 8,187
3rd February 1940	... 5,708
10th February 1940	... 4,043
17th February 1940	... 4,874
24th February 1940	... 2,524

Bales consumed for week ending:—

27th January 1940	... 2,978
20th January 1940	... 2,963
13th January 1940	... 2,991
6th January 1940	... 3,432
3rd February 1940	... 2,991
10th February 1940	... 2,784

On 27th January 1940 it was calculated that 4,457 bales were lying in the canal awaiting storage. From these figures it does not appear that there was any appreciable decrease of imports in January to justify the sudden discharge of so many hands on 3rd February 1940. On the contrary for the week ending 3rd February 1940 more bales were received than during the three previous weeks. The consumption similarly was not less than in January. Moreover if 5,940 bales were lying in the canal on 3rd February 1940 there could be little prospect of a slack time in the immediate future. If, as the Manager says, it was possible to foresee the probable amount of work three or four days ahead, I find it somewhat difficult to fathom the reason for the discharge of as many as 28 hands on 3rd February. At least the state of affairs apparent from the registers cannot be reconciled with the company's plea that retrenchment was effected for shortage of work. As a matter of fact, the statement given below will show that the number of workers remained practically stationary throughout January and February, 1940. This proves that in effect there was no retrenchment.

For the week ending:

6th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	14 pairs.
Coolies	54

13th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	13 pairs.
Coolies	43

20th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	23 pairs.
Coolies	55

27th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	16 pairs.
Coolies	46

3rd February 1940—

Bale-carriers	16 pairs.
Coolies	42

10th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	15 pairs.
Coolies	40

17th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	15 pairs.
Coolies	40

24th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	16 pairs.
Coolies	40

With this must be considered the question of recruitment of several new men on 5th February 1940. The Manager's explanation is that when the men, discharged on 3rd February 1940, refused to take their wages, he apprehended trouble and brought 12 men from Sibpur to prevent disorganisation of work in case of a strike. There was no trouble and the 12 men were kept on for some weeks, the reason for their retention being the company's disinclination to send them away without work. I am afraid I do not quite appreciate the force of this argument. If there was really no work for the men they could easily have been given a day or two's wages as compensation or even a week's wages and sent away. Instead of that not only were they kept on, but several others employed during the following weeks.

In this connection should be mentioned the fact that the names of these men were not shown in the regular register but entered in a separate book, and their wages were debited to "shifting charges". "Shifting charges" according to Nishu Babu are charges incurred for shifting bales from one godown into another. If this definition be correct then it is strange that these charges do not appear anywhere in the register except in those weeks during which these extra hands were entertained, though bales were shifted on occasions other than the three or four weeks in February. It is to be noted that the clerk's evidence on this point is at variance with that of the Manager who says that except those few weeks the mill never incurred any shifting charges. The non-entry of their names also in the regular register calls for comment. It seems that during the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February 1940 these persons did not muster with the others, nor were their names in the attendance register. The Factory Inspector was later told that they had been entered in a separate book. When he wanted to see this book on 6th March 1940 he was told that it had been destroyed. All this recourse to subterfuge could have been avoided had no attempt been made to conceal the presence of the new men at the time of inspection on 21st February 1940.

Another point of significance is that though 26 new hands were taken between 5th February and 25th May 1940, to cope with the rush of work in connection with re-stored jute, except Baijnath, Lalchand, Jadoo and Kisan, not one of the other dismissed men was re-employed. If really these men had been retrenched one would imagine that when work was available they would again be given a chance. The management can hardly say that they were not available, because these unemployed people must have been haunting the precincts of the mill during that time.

In the face of these facts one finds it difficult to escape from the conclusion that the case for the management suffers by comparison, and that the interpretation put by the workers on the company's action is more consistent with reason. By this I do not wish to imply that the Manager was personally interested in this matter, but I suspect that the subordinate staff painted the situation in a manner that led him to believe that the men would cause trouble if they were not summarily dismissed. That was the Manager's belief is borne out by his requisition for police help (evidence of Mr. Murshedi); though his fears turned out to be unfounded.

It was contended that in view of the company's legal right to discharge its employees without assigning any reason, the questions raised by these issues do not arise. There is no dispute that under the existing terms of the contract the company is at liberty to dismiss any employee with a week's notice or wages in lieu thereof. But the question for decision here is not whether the company has or has not such a right, but whether the dismissals were justified, that is to say, whether there was any just or reasonable cause for dispensing with the services of these men. Mr. Kitching urged the Court not to consider the morality of the dismissals, as that would necessarily involve one in a consideration of the ethical basis of contracts, which is clearly outside the scope of the present enquiry. While realising the wisdom of this observation, I feel that Government would not be transgressing the limits of its power if it attempted to see that the employer exercised this right consistent with the principles of equity, and to secure to the employee justice and fair-play.

On these grounds I hold that the dismissals on 5th February 1940 were without just and reasonable cause, and that the reason for the company's reluctance to engage the discharged men is to be sought in the management's belief that the malcontents would foment trouble.

6. Dismissal of Jagat on 22nd February 1940.

This man had been a bale-carrier in the Jute Department for 16 or 17 years. His allegation is that he was dismissed the day after the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February 1940, because he had advised some of the workers to go up to the officer and tell him that the new men recruited after the dismissal of Dwarika and others had not been produced before him. He says that the Babus noticed this and reported to the overseer, who took his ticket and told him to go. He appealed to the Manager without success. The company's case is that he was dismissed for inciting workers to strike, and for being insolent to the Manager.

There is no evidence that Jagat ever incited any employee of the company to strike. Mr. Wilkie himself could not recall any particular instance. He probably acted on the information of the clerks or sirdars when he called Jagat to reprimand him for his conduct. At the same time in the face of the Manager's evidence it is not at all unlikely that Jagat did behave towards him in an unbecoming manner. Jagat stoutly denied this but I cannot accept his word against that of the Manager. Therefore though I think that the authorities were justified in taking disciplinary action against Jagat, I feel that this was a case where mercy could have tempered justice. The punishment seemed unnecessarily severe and was perhaps inspired more by suspicion of Jagat's subversive activities than by his insolent conduct.

7. Dismissal of Khalil and other weavers on 27th November 1939.

The trouble with the weavers had its origin in the petition submitted sometime in August 1939, by Khalil and about 30 others to the Manager making allegations of bribery and corruption against one Karim Sardar. The Manager referred the matter to the Departmental Overseer Mr. Craig for confidential enquiry. In the meantime the men approached the Bengal National Jute Workers' Union who held an enquiry of their own. Then on 4th October Khalil says that Mr. Craig visited his loom several times which was very unusual, and so getting nervous he put in for eight weeks' leave. According to him his leave was granted, but that when he went to get his leave pass the overseer told him that as he was an old hand no pass was necessary. The case of the management on the other hand is that Khalil was dismissed for insubordination, disregard of discipline and causing trouble in the mill. As regards Jalil, Bechu, Nabi Muhammad, Sadeque and Abdul Sattar, the written statement of the company says that they were also dismissed on the same ground. Jalil, Nabi Muhammad and Sadeque who deposed in court, stated that they were dismissed on 27th November 1939 for no reason at all, that they did not create any disturbance at the mill or abuse any officer, nor were they told why they were being sent away.

I shall now consider whether the facts bear out the company's allegation, or support the case of the workers. The Assistant Labour Commissioner, Mr. Murshedi stated that at the time of his enquiry on 12th December 1939 the Manager told him that Khalil, Jalil, Nabi, Bechu, Sadeque and Sattar were dismissed for attempting to stop the men from entering the factory at 12-45 p.m. on 5th October 1939. It was also represented to him that about 300 men had collected and Khalil threatened and abused the Manager and harangued the men to go on strike. In the first place, there is disagreement between Mr. Craig and Mr. Wilkie as to who actually dismissed the six men. Mr. Craig seems to think that he dismissed them, whereas Mr. Wilkie says that he dismissed Khalil, but not the others. Secondly, neither of these gentlemen could give any definite instance of insubordination, or breach of discipline, or any attempt to incite the workers to strike on the part of these men, though they assert that Khalil and his followers were making trouble. Mr. Craig in cross-examination said that during the weeks prior to his dismissal Khalil was insubordinate and incited other workers not to work. This knowledge, however, he admitted, was not first-hand, and had been gathered apparently from other people in the mill. He also says that though there was no breach of discipline amongst the workers, "he felt that he was not getting the same amount of respect and a tension of feeling was noticed". He even admits that he never saw Khalil talking to the weavers. According to him there was no deterioration in the quantity or quality of the work of the weavers, and he is forced to admit that he cannot say why Jalil, Bechu, Nabi, Sadeque and Sattar were dismissed on 27th November 1939. Therefore so far as Mr. Craig is concerned, he has no knowledge as to the particular reason which led to the dismissal of the weavers except Khalil, and even against him he cannot cite any particular instance of insubordination, beyond a vague declaration that all was not well with the workers. Mr. Wilkie, on the other hand, says that except Khalil the other weavers were dismissed by Mr. Craig, though he was within sight of Mr. Craig at the time. As regards Khalil he confesses that the only instance he can think of about Khalil's inciting the men was at about 1 p.m. on 4th October when Khalil came forward to address him but could not do so as he went inside the mill. Beyond this he does not mention any instance of insubordination or indiscipline. Mr. Wilkie says in cross-examination, "Except the incident on the 4th October at 12-40 p.m. I did not notice any sign of Khalil's attempt to incite the workers. I did not actually hear at any time Khalil advising the men not to work. In dismissing him I only acted on hearsay and was solely guided by my feelings". From this it is clear that the management in dismissing these six men acted purely on suspicion and on confidential enquiries. If Bechu, Nabi, Sadeque, Sattar and Jalil were supporters of Khalil and were bent on making trouble, it is strange that they kept quiet and made no demonstration at all at the time of Khalil's dismissal.

In this state of the evidence I have no other alternative but to hold that the company have failed to explain to any degree of satisfaction the reasons which led them to discharge these six men. One is tempted to agree with the contention of the workers that they were dismissed not so much for any supposed breach of discipline as for the purpose of maintaining a balance of power after the dismissal of Karim.

8. Dismissal of workers on 20th November 1939.

The dismissal of these men were also connected with Khalil's complaint, as they were the first batch selected for discharge after Khalil. Of the dismissed men Raozan, Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan, Bisnath and Nasir were examined in court. Nasir's case stands on a different footing from the others and will be dealt with separately. The evidence of these men is that at the time of their dismissal, they were given the impression that they were being discharged for bad work.

At the outset, it should be noted that the position taken by the company before the court is different from the one adopted by the management during the preliminary enquiries of the Labour Commissioner and Assistant Labour Commissioner. During the Assistant Labour Commissioner's enquiry on 12th December 1939 the Manager's case was that all these men had been suspended for bad work, but in the written statement filed in court the Manager gives low production as being the reason for the suspension of Bhagan, Yusuf, Zakir and Wali Mohammad, but as regards Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir, he says that they were dismissed for insubordination, disregard of discipline and causing trouble in the mill. As I pointed out in the case of the men dismissed on 27th November 1939, the company has not adhered to the explanation originally given to the Labour Commissioner as to the cause of dismissal. At first the Manager told the Assistant Labour Commissioner that all these seven men were suspended for bad work and would be reinstated later. Then on 5th February 1940 the Managing Agents wrote to the Labour Commissioner that the facts of the case were not as represented by him, and that only Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan and Wali Mohammad had been suspended, while others had been dismissed for misconduct and breach of discipline. Thus Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir were classed with Khalil and others after the Manager had distinctly assured the Assistant Labour Commissioner that they had been temporarily suspended. As in the case of Khalil Mr. Wilkie is not in a position to give any specific instance of insubordination or indiscipline on the part of Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir. He says that they were dismissed by Mr. Craig, whereas the latter cannot assign any reason for their dismissal.

As regards Nasir the Manager said that Nasir was discharged for going away on leave without submitting a medical certificate, whereas in the written statement Nasir is classed with Raozan, Biswanath and Khalil who were dismissed for insubordination. Nasir explained that when he wanted leave on 9th October 1939 he was not given a leave-pass because he could not produce the mill doctor's certificate. Nasir says that he went to the doctor but could not find him and so left the mill and came back with another medical certificate on 22nd October 1939. The Manager probably thought that this was only an excuse for malingering, and he was accordingly discharged on 9th October 1939. It is difficult to say whether Nasir actually went to the doctor or not. However, there is no ground for dispute that Nasir did ask for leave and did not produce the mill doctor's certificate in support of his application. Very likely the management was not anxious to retain his services, but the reason is not clear. The Manager's case in the written statement is different from his evidence in court, and therefore it seems to me that Nasir's application for leave was seized as a convenient excuse for getting rid of him. That is why probably the company, while promising to take back Zakir, Yusuf and Bhagan, omitted the name of Nasir.

There remains the case of Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan and Wali Muhammad. The last named is already in the mill's employ and the question of his dismissal does not arise. Regarding the others, Mr. Wilkie's case in the written statement is in conflict with the evidence of Mr. Craig. While the Manager thinks that these men were suspended for low production, Mr. Craig who is the departmental overseer and ought to be in a better position to judge, says that "there was no deterioration in the quantity or quality of work of these men". In the face of this admission I think the explanation in the written statement is untenable.

It will be evident that the management in dispensing with the services of the men on 20th November 1939 proceeded merely on suspicion and hearsay. Not a single witness, nor indeed the Manager or the overseer, is in a position to say that he actually saw any of these men talking to a weaver or inciting him to create disturbance, or commit any breach of discipline or insubordination. While admitting the great responsibility resting on the Manager to control the staff, I maintain that the responsibility which the employer owes to the employee is no less great: it is the responsibility to see that a man is not subjected to injustice and that he gets a hearing before any punishment is meted out to him.

Conclusion.

This investigation has emphasized certain unlovely features in the relations of capital and labour. It will be apparent that the dispute arose mainly from the absence of well defined conditions of service in the jute mills. Had there been properly formulated rules to guide the authorities there could not have occurred the impasse, necessitating the appointment of a Court of Enquiry. In my opinion the worker's greatest need now is permanency of service and security from arbitrary dismissal. The summary discharge of the men with a week's wages and without any substantial reason has shown the insecurity of their service, and their inability to obtain redress when injustice does occur. I therefore think that the right of the employer to dismiss an employee without assigning any reason needs considerable modification. An employer should not dismiss an employee without specific causes. The latter should always be given an opportunity to be heard, and there should be provision for appeal to a higher authority.

The difficulties in the present case were accentuated by the distrust felt by the company of all trade union activities. We have seen how workers who sought the aid of union leaders, became immediately suspect. With a little more sympathy and understanding I feel sure the management would have succeeded in conciliating the discontented men. After all a revolutionary is not born but is made, and the surest way to eliminate discontent is to view with patience the cause of the disaffected.

Before I conclude I must express my gratitude to the representatives of both parties for the help they gave me in the enquiry. My thanks are especially due to the Manager, Mr. Wilkie, for his unfailing courtesy and his readiness to place all records and other information at the disposal of the court whenever required.

(Clauses 4, 5.)

(3) If the District Magistrate is satisfied that the classification of any market is incorrect he may at any time, after giving the owner of the market an opportunity of being heard, and for reasons to be recorded in writing, and in accordance with prescribed procedure, alter the classification of such market.

Provisions of the Act. 1	Subject. 2	Fine which may be imposed. 3	Daily fine which may be imposed. 4
Section 4, sub-section (1).	Establishment or continuance of a market without licence.	Five hundred rupees.	One hundred rupees.
Section 4, sub-section (2).	Breach of any condition of a licence.	One hundred rupees.	Fifty rupees.
Section 8, sub-section (1).	Making or receiving any trade allowance other than such allowance as may be prescribed.	One hundred rupees.	•

Section 14, sub-section (2).	Refusal to make over possession of a market on suspension of licence or obstruction to its management or maintenance.	Five hundred rupees.	One hundred rupees.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In varying degrees in the markets in Bengal buyers and sellers, and in particular cultivators selling their produce, are subject to disadvantages and malpractices amongst which the following are the most prevalent:—

- (i) Market charges and allowances levied by the owners of markets and by dealers are numerous and often excessive.
- (ii) Weights and measures are of different kinds and this affords scope for cheating and unfair dealing.
- (iii) In many markets there is inadequate provision for shelter, conservancy, water-supply, sanitation, drainage, and general accommodation.
- (iv) Reliable information as to prices, and other marketing information is not usually available.
- (v) Unjustified discounts and deductions are common.
- (vi) Persons frequenting the markets are liable to be victimised by the levy of tolls of various kinds by unauthorised persons.
- (vii) Produce is subject to no standard. This operates to the disadvantage of the buyer in that he may receive adulterated or mixed produce. It also operates to the disadvantage of the cultivator selling his produce in that he cannot get the best price for the best quality produce.

2. The object of the Bill is to secure better conditions in the markets for the public generally and to protect buyers and sellers, in particular cultivators selling their produce, from unjustified exactions and other malpractices which prevail.

3. The Bill accordingly provides for—

- (i) the fixing of the kinds of market charges and fees which may be levied by the proprietors of markets and the rates at which they may be levied ;
- (ii) the maintenances of sets of standard weights and measures in the markets against which weighment and measurements may be checked ;
- (iii) requiring the proprietor of a market to provide adequate shelter, conservancy, water-supply, sanitation, drainage, etc., having regard to local conditions and the income derived from the markets ;
- (iv) publication of reliable information as to prices and other marketing information ;
- (v) prohibition of "trade allowances" and deductions other than those which may be prescribed as permissible ;
- (vi) prevention of victimisation by the levy of various tolls by unauthorised persons ;
- (vii) the conduct of transactions in agricultural produce according to standard grades and definitions of quality so that buyers may be protected against mixing and adulteration and that sellers will be able to dispose of their produce at values in accordance with its quality.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 44 of 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1940.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such day, as the Governor General in Council so directs.

Amendment of section 4,
Act V of 1898.

2. In clause (r) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898,—

V of 1898.

(1) the figure and brackets "(1)" occurring before the words "an advocate" shall be omitted;

(2) the words, figure and brackets "and (2) any other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such proceeding" shall be omitted; and

(3) for the comma occurring after the word "authorised" a full stop shall be substituted.

*The Governor General has been pleased to accord the previous sanction required by section 119(1) of the Government of India Act, 1935.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

(1) The piece of enactment sought to be repealed which allows private unqualified people to appear and act in a criminal case with the permission of the Court was enacted when qualified pleaders were not easily available and could be engaged only at a heavy cost. At present there is no dearth of pleaders. This provision of law has, therefore, outlived its object.

(2) This enactment is against the spirit and letter of the Legal Practitioners Act.

(3) The discretion vested in the magistrates is responsible for creation of many an objectionable man enjoying the patronage of the magistrates.

(4) There is no enactment to checkmate the demeanour of these men. It is assumed that these "half-educated" persons owe no responsibility to any one, whereas highly qualified advocates have to abide by the rules of High Courts and the provisions of the Legal Practitioners Act.

(5) These persons were originally allowed to appear on the grounds of preventing a possible miscarriage of justice, but the remedy is now worse than the evil sought to be remedied.

(6) In practice the engagement of such men is more costly than that of properly qualified men as they know how to extort exorbitant fees on pretences more than one.

(7) Members of the Bar whose field is now overcrowded are at a great disadvantage by their existence and their unscrupulous methods of getting themselves engaged.

It is compromising the dignity of the Bar to allow such men to appear and oppose qualified members of the Bar. It is high time that the existing provision be deleted from the Code.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 45 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; It is hereby enacted as V of 1898. follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such day as the Governor General in Council so directs.

Amendment of section 250,
Act V of 1898.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the words "by a Magistrate of the second or third class to pay compensation or has been so ordered by any other Magistrate to pay compensation exceeding fifty rupees" the words "by any Magistrate to pay compensation" shall be substituted. V of 1898.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 250, sub-section (3), an order of compensation is appealable when it exceeds Rs. 50. The result is that some Magistrates on purpose inflict a fine of Rs. 50 or less in order that the order may not be appealed against. It is true that a revision application could be filed against such an order, but a revision application involves a cumbrous procedure. High Courts are usually unwilling to entertain revision applications directly. They wish the applicant to first approach the Sessions Court or the District Magistrate to make a recommendation to them for revision of the order under section 438, Criminal Procedure Code. The hearing of the revision application in the High Court ordinarily takes any time from 3 to 6 months after a report from Sessions Court. It also involves the aggrieved party in a lot of expenditure in having to engage counsel for two Courts and also in having to go to the seat of the High Court to prosecute the application.

High Courts are also full up with criminal and civil work as is apparent from the fact that every High Court gets additional Judges appointed in addition to the sanctioned strength. The powers of High Courts in revision are absolutely discretionary and exercised sparingly whereas the appellate powers of every appeal Court are in actual practice more freely exercised. Times have changed and there is no reason why a person aggrieved of compensation of Rs. 50 or less should have no right of appeal.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 46 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872; It is hereby enacted as follow:— I of 1872.

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Evidence (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the day it is passed.

Amendment of
section 24,
Act I of 1872.

2. In section 24 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 I of 1872. (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the word "Confession", wherever it occurs, the words "or statement" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 25,
Act I of 1872.

3. In section 25 of the said Act,—

(a) after the word "Confession" the words "or statement" shall be inserted; and

(b) for the word "to" the word "before" shall be substituted.

Amendment of
section 26,
Act I of 1872.

4. In section 26 of the said Act, after the word "confession" the words "or statement" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The word "Confession" is not defined in the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, but the judicial view is that a confession is an admission made at any time by a person charged with a crime stating or suggesting the inference that he committed the same. There is a distinction between an admission and a confession, which, however, as it does not contain a definition of the word confession, does not itself declare in what that distinction exists. The nature of the distinction attempted to be made by the Courts is often very subtle, complicated and conflicting. Statement which is intended to be self-exculpatory may nevertheless be an admission of an incriminating circumstance. When in a prosecution for a crime the prosecutor relies upon the statement of the accused before the police on the ground of its being an exculpatory one, for the purpose of proving his guilt, it presumably suggests an inference of guilt. A misuse of such a statement for contradicting the accused's defence version at the trial is not unoften made. To remove such an abuse and the loophole, owing to there being no statutory definition of the word "confession", anything stated to the police by an accused person, unless it comes under section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, should be excluded.

2. Confession to a private person in the presence of a police officer is sometimes being used, as the words "to a Police Officer" in section 25 of the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, are confounding. To remove that doubt the word "to" in the section should be substituted by the word "before".

maintenance.

2. Notwithstanding any custom or law to the contrary a married Hindu woman shall be entitled to claim separate residence and maintenance from her husband on one or more of the following grounds, viz.—

(1) If the husband is suffering from leprosy, or any loathsome disease;

(2) If the husband is suffering from venereal disease;

(3) If the husband is an incurable lunatic;

(4) If the husband is guilty of cruelty towards her;

(5) If the husband deserts her;

(6) If the husband marries again;

(7) If the husband turns a recluse or changes his religion.

Jurisdiction.

3. Every suit under this Act shall be instituted in the civil court within whose jurisdiction the husband and wife ordinarily reside.

Amount of maintenance.

4. The amount of maintenance given by the courts to the wife shall not be less than one-fifth of the income of the husband.

Custody of the children.

5. The custody, maintenance and education of the children shall be as the courts decide.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. Even with regard to elementary rights of human beings, the position of a Hindu married woman is deplorable. This Bill intends to give her the right of separate residence and maintenance under unbearable conditions.

2. As to giving a Hindu wife the right of divorce there might be some slight difference of opinion in the Central Assembly, but as regards the right to give her separate residence and maintenance under certain inhuman conditions there was no difference of opinion. The House was unanimous in giving a Hindu wife this right. Accordingly a Committee was appointed by the Central Assembly, but unfortunately the Committee could not meet.

3. The Bill merely proposes to carry out what was unanimously agreed to in the Central Assembly.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.Legislative Department.*NOTIFICATION.

No. 1151. — 28th January 1941. — The following Bill which was introduced in the Council of State on the 21st November 1940 and in regard to which a motion was carried that the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto. Written expressions of opinion by any person or public body should be sent so as to reach the Judicial Department of the Government of Bengal not later than the 15th February 1941. Any opinion which is submitted direct to the Legislative Department or to any other department of the Government of India or of the Provincial Government will not be accepted for consideration.

[As introduced in the Council of State.]

Amend the Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908, for a certain purpose; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Indian Limitation (Amendment) Act, 1940.

2. In section 20, sub-section (1), omit the words "as such" occurring after the word "paid".

3. Payments of interest or principal made before this Act and acknowledgment thereof appearing in the manner prescribed by the proviso to section 20 shall save limitation as if the words "as such" were never enacted in the section.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Rama Shah vs. Lal Chand, reported in A. I. R. 1940, P. C. 63, which places a strict interpretation on the words of section 20 of the Indian Limitation Act, has created considerable hardship. Endorsements of payments made by debtors towards a debt do not in all cases specify whether the payment is made towards interest as such or part of the principal. In practice, debtors also do not specify at the time of making payment whether the payment is made towards interest or principal. In many cases, the payments are made towards the debt or legacy due, and the mode of appropriation is left either to the creditor or is regulated in accordance with the course of business between the parties. If the decision of the Privy Council is allowed to stand, several promissory notes and bonds on which endorsements are made without specifying that the payment is made towards interest as such or principal would be held by courts to have become time-barred. It is, therefore, necessary to amend section 20 of the Indian Limitation Act in such a way as to give effect to the intention of the Legislature that a payment made towards a debt will have the effect of saving limitation, for all payments are intended to go either towards principal or interest or partly towards the one and partly towards the other, whether the endorsements so specify or not, provided the acknowledgment of payment appears in the handwriting of, or in a writing signed by, the person making the payment. But in order to save endorsements of payments made before the passing of this Act, it is necessary to give retrospective effect to this Act, and provision is accordingly made that the section shall be so read as the words "as such" never existed in the section.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL NO. 54 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877 for a certain purpose; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Specific Relief (Amendment) Act, 193 .

Amendment of sections 45 to 51, Act I of 1877.

2. In section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 I of 1877. (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

- (a) after the words "Any of the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay and Rangoon" the words "and the Court of the Judicial Commissioner in Sind" be added;
- (b) for the words "within the local limits of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction" the words "within limits of its appellate civil jurisdiction" shall be substituted;
- (c) in other clauses of section 45 and in sections 46 to 51 wherever the word "High" appears the word "Such" be substituted;
- (d) in clause (f) of the proviso, for the words occurring after the words "On the Governor (General in Council)" the words "or the Governor in Council of any Governor's Province in British India" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 48, Act I of 1877.

3. In section 48 of the said Act, for the word "ordinary" the word "appellate" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In view of the growing importance of Sind necessity of the exercise of power contained in section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, by the highest Court in Sind has been authoritatively declared. Cases often occur in Sind calling for the issue of Writs of the nature of Mandamus. The public opinion is strongly in favour of the power of the nature contained in section 45 being invested in the Judicial Commissioner of Sind's Court which has been exercising ordinary powers of a High Court.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 55 OF 1940.

A Bill to provide for Judicial Separation and Divorce amongst the Hindus.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for judicial separation and divorce amongst the Hindus under certain circumstances;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Judicial Separation and Divorce Act, 194 .

(2) It shall apply to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the....day of..... 194....

Grounds for claiming separate residence by wife
or husband.

2. Notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary, a Hindu wife or husband shall be entitled to claim separate residence from the married partner, and may bring a suit for the same in a court of law on one or more of the following grounds, viz.:

(1) if the husband or wife is suffering from any loathsome disease, leprosy, venereal disease;

(2) if the husband or wife is an incurable lunatic;

(3) if the husband or wife turns a recluse or changes religion;

(4) if the husband or wife commits adultery.

Grounds for claiming separate residence and maintenance by wife.

3. A wife may claim separate residence and maintenance from her husband—

(1) if the husband marries again;

(2) if the husband is guilty of cruelty towards her;

(3) if the husband deserts her.

Jurisdiction.

4. Every suit under this Act shall be instituted in the civil court within whose jurisdiction the wife ordinarily resides.

Maintenance.

5. The amount of maintenance given by the courts shall not be less than one-fifth of the income of the husband.

children.

6. The custody, maintenance and education of the children shall be as the courts may decide.

Divorce.

7. The court may grant a decree of dissolution of marriage two years after the decree of judicial separation.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The institution of marriage as interpreted and practised today amongst the Hindus is very unfair to the wife and gives all the advantages to the husband.

The conscience of the Hindu community is very much stirred against this injustice to Hindu wives, as was seen in the recent discussion on the Bill to give Hindu women the right to divorce, and the public opinion collected on the Bill.

The present Bill removes some of the inequalities and puts the institution of Hindu marriage on a more natural and healthy basis.
